Sad Case of Destitution and Death.

Mary Keudlan, with three small children, arrived in the city yesterday morning from St. Louis, en route to Pittsburgh in search of her husband. She proceeded to the Little Miami depot, and soon after arriving there one of her children, a little girl thirteen months old, died in her arms, quite suddenly. The Coroner was notified, and an inquest was held, which developed some sad facts. It seems Mrs. Keudlan has been in this country only three months. Her husband crossed the ocean several months since, and the last she heard of him he was in New York. When she arrived there she learned that he had left for St. Louis, and she followed him there, where she remained until last Saturday. She failed to find her husband at St. Louis, but a few days since heard that he was in Pittsburgh, and at once prepared to continue the search. After disposing of all her effects, she barely had money enough to purchase a ticket to Pittsburgh. Her child was taken sick after she started, but she did not think the case serious, and without any medical attention it died yesterday morning as above stated. The jury after the Coroner had investigated the case, returned a verdict of "death from cholera infantum."—Cincinnati Commercial, Monday.

Agitation Over the Shipping Bill.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Plimpsoll's Shipping Bill.

LONDON, July 26.—The Times understands that Mr. Plimpsoll has procured a revival of his shipping bill, which he abandoned in favor of the Government's measure, and that it will now be placed on the order book for Thursday. Mr. Plimpsoll will then apologize to the House and consent to the passage of the bill as a provisional measure, for one year only.

LONDON, July 26.—The House of Commons fixed Thursday next for the second reading of Plimpsoll's shipping bill. Earl Shaftesbury has written a letter to Plimpsoll, earnestly sympathizing with him in his effort to better the condition of seamen, and advising him to appear in the House and adhere to the views he expressed, but to signify his regret that excitement led him to violate the rules of debate. A majority of the prominent daily and weekly journals express similar views.

Steamship Collision.

The Cunard steamship Abyssinia and Williams & Guion's steamship Wyoming, from New York for Liverpool, collided yesterday at New Brighton. Both vessels were considerably damaged in their hulls, and have been docked.

Cotton Mills Closed.

LONDON, July 26.—Thirty cotton mills closed at Oldham to-day, the operators refusing to accept the masters' terms in regard to wages.

House of Commons.

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Commons to-day various notices of motions and questions were given, all reflecting the depth of public indignation at the Government's withdrawal of the shipping bill. #### PORTUGAL.

Serious Drought.

LONDON, July 26.—A special from Lisbon, Portugal, reports a drought in several districts of Minho that has destroyed crops and pastures. A famine is threatened, and riots against grain reporters are imminent. The cattle are dying of hunger, and the local authorities report that it will be impossible to collect taxes in many places. An attempt to do so would cause an insurrection. Accounts from Alogoroe show a similar state of affairs in that province. The Government is sending relief to the afflicted sections.

TURKEY.

Fighting in Herzegovina.

RAGUSA, July 26.—The Herzegovina insurgents were attacked by Turkish troops on Friday last, near Nevesigna, and a severe engagement took place. Many were killed and wounded on both sides. On Saturday the Turks made a sortie from Stoladtz, and attacked the insurgents near Dabra. Four companies made an unsuccessful effort to flank the insurgents. The fighting lasted all day. The result is not known. The Turks have fired Gorlitza.

A Swindler Arrested.

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—One Noyes P. Gregory, a smart swindler, who has been pretending to be the traveling agent for E. W. Phelps & Co., of Newark, manufacturers of tools for sharpening agricultural implements, was arrested in Zanesville on Saturday and brought to this city to answer a charge of forgery and obtaining goods under false pretenses. Gregory purchased a piano and two organs here, some time ago, for nine hundred dollars, giving in payment three notes for three hundred dollars each, purporting to be signed by farmers of Marion county. These notes turn out to be forgeries, and now Gregory wants to compromise the case. This man has recently been operating in the west. It is probable other parties have been swindled.

Excitement in New Orleans Police Circles.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—The refusal on Saturday evening of the Captain of the British steamer State of Alabama to surrender three of his sailors charged with stealing a coat, created a flutter of excitement in police circles. The British Consul was appealed to. Meantime the Alabama sailed for Liverpool with the accused on board. ### CORRESPONDENCE.

MOUNT UNION COLLEGE.

Commencement Week—The Closing Exercises—Degrees Conferred, &c.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MOUNT UNION, July 24, 1875.

Yesterday ended commencement week at Mount Union College. It was a gala day. Multitudes thronged the town. The College has a strong hold on the hearts of the masses, and deservedly so. It has been an educational benediction to thousands of young men and women.

The College is now twenty-nine years old and has enrolled on its catalogue, from first to last, 10,789 students.

The class graduated yesterday numbered thirty-two, five of these young ladies. Their performances gave evidence that they are the peers of their brothers in every respect.

More than two thousand people thronged the College hall yesterday, witnessing the closing exercises.

Beside the orations of the graduating class, Dr. J. H. Vincent, of New York, Mr. Lewis Miller, President of the Board of Trustees; Rev. H. D. Fisher and Rev Mr. Baker, of Akron, Ohio, made addresses.

The burden of these addresses was an appeal to the friends of the College to erect a new building for the accommodation of the constantly increasing number of students.

President Hartshorn gave diplomas to the thirty-two graduates and announced the following degrees conferred: D. D. on Rev. James M. Freeman, assistant editor of S. S. Journal, Rev. Wm. Dixon, of the Presbyterian church, North Benton, Ohio, and Rev. J. B. Helwig, Wittenburg College, Springfield, Ohio.

In the evening the two Literary Societies held a conjoint exercise. Fully a thousand persons were present, making a net income to the societies of $500.

The singing was very good. It was done by the choirs of the two societies. The instrumental music—two solos on piano—may have been first class. I do not know. There were just two persons in the house, so far as I could see, interested in it; the performer and her teacher.

The programme of exercises came very nearly having no end. It reached clear up to midnight—a shame and an imposition.

Commencements at Mount Union College are no commonplace affairs. They attract not only the natives, but distinguished strangers from abroad. We saw a number of these yesterday—one well known to the GAZETTE, Rev. W. H. Kincaid, A. M., who who renders many of our colleges useful service.

During the coming year Mount Union is to have a new building. AMICUS.

PORT HOMER, O.

The Crops in the Rural Districts—Business Prospects.

PORT HOMER, O., July 26, 1875.

The crops are very fine in South Eastern Ohio, in fact that venerable citizen, the oldest inhabitant never saw better. Wheat was cut in a fine condition, and the crop is above the average for some years past. What may be the loss from the very wet weather "old Prob" may know; we don't at present. Oats are No. 1 extra. The prospects are that thirty to thirty-five cents will be the price here this fall. Potatoes are first rate. The average is unusually large, and since the busy little bug has left us, prospects are good for an extra large yield. They will not be worth more than twenty-five or thirty cents. Corn was never better. There was more than usual planted, and the wet, warm weather has brought it forward with a rush—in fact a little faster than many wished to have it. It was almost impossible to keep ahead with plows and hoes. Barley is but little grown here, but what I have seen looks well, as do all spring crops that have been tickled with the hoe sufficiently. Grapes are well set, but are beginning to rot badly. If this warm wet weather continues long they will be used up; then good bye wine—nothing for our Centennial dinner. My pear crop I sold in the spring—what grew on over one hundred trees for five cents to a newspaper man. He has a safe investment, and at least a margin of one hundred per cent. Gardens are gay and happy, and have passed the crisis, except the cabbage, which is being very much troubled with worms; wonder if McLean's vermifuge would help it? How would it affect the "krout."

Business—ah! that's the question—is, well, just about the same, or a little more so. Fire brick have been sold at the yard for $6.25—less than cost. Several yards have shut down, and more will, unless there is a change for the better soon. Will times be any better when Uncle Bill Allen is elected? Will he be elected, or will General Hays knock the wind out of his sails? We want money, not shinplasters, that are only worth eighty-eight cents on the dollar. If we can't have specie, give us a currency with Uncle Sam's guarantee that he will give us the full amount of the promise to pay. If our bonds are good abroad, our currency would be also, if issued on the same principle—that we intend to redeem them in specie. H.

CANTON, O.

Farmers Engaged in Harvest Work—"Peter Funk" Agents and Peddlers.

CANTON, O., July 24, 1875.

The farmers are now earnestly engaged in their harvest work. The wheat crop is not equal to an average, as estimated year by year. The oats will be pretty good. Much barley is raised in this region, and the yield of it will be as good as that of other seasons. The corn crop is making a good show. Rain has fallen abundantly this summer, and while frequent showers have benefited the corn, they have been adverse to the harvest work. About one-third of the time farmers have been kept from work by rain. If it is true that "a wet summer is followed by a frosty winter," as some weather-wise person has published, we may expect next winter to be a repetition of last. What does your learned correspondent "G. A." think about it?

The unsophisticated people of this region are occasionally visited by peddlers and agents of the "Peter Funk" tribe. They succeed often enough to make the people distrustful of all agents, even those who have useful commodities to offer. Recently a lottery agent called at a farmer's house, and told some specious stories about the prizes to be drawn. Among them were bales of cloth, Brussels carpet, pianos, melodeons, &c. Tickets were to cost only one dollar. To a credulous woman, all of this seemed wonderful; but, like a dutiful wife, she thought best to consult her husband before investing. For this purpose she ran to the field, where he was engaged driving the reaper. The husband and his harvest hands knew enough about such schemes to save their money, wherefore "Peter" was dismissed without any addition to his exchequer, and though left for awhile at the house with only a little girl, he thought it most prudent not to attempt any improper liberti—, knowing that harvest workmen would not be backward in organizing a police force suitable for the occasion.

A New Sensation.

Captain Ruffin tackled our reporter, yesterday afternoon, at Cumminsville, and said he had an item for us. He said that, on next Sunday, the Spring Grove Avenue Railroad Company would furnish additional attractions, in the way of female conductors. Immediately afterward Mr. E. S. Bates, Superintendent of the company, stepped up and said:

"Mebbe you don't believe it?"

"Believe what?" queried our reporter.

"That we are going to have female conductors next Sunday," answered Mr. Bates.

"Are you going to continue the females on week days, too?" asked the reporter.

"Certainly," replied the Superintendent. "We are going to try the experiment at any rate. We expect the traveling public to treat the ladies civilly, and we don't know why women will not make as good conductors as men. If it does not pay, why, we'll have to drop it, that's all. As soon as the Captain returns, we will lay the matter fully before the Board." [The Captain is Mr. T. F. Eckert, one of the principal stockholders in the road.—REP.]

Just then Captain Ruffin chimed in: "Louie [one of the oldest drivers on the road] says they will have to furnish a purty one for his car, or none at all."

Heretofore the company has employed only drivers, who collect fare, except on Sundays, when there is a rush of business, when the old drivers act as conductors, and extra drivers are employed for the day. The new experiment will be hailed with delight, especially by the young men.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Yellow Fever.

The Secretary of the Navy has received the following dispatches:

Religious Revival Agitated.

A meeting of ministers and others was held here to-day for the purpose of considering the subject of inviting Messrs. Moody and Sankey to visit this city and hold a series of meetings. A committee was appointed to lay the matter before the churches, and request them to appoint delegates to assemble at noon on Monday next, to extend an invitation and arrange for the erection of a suitable building for meetings.

Cabinet Rumors Denied.

Recent newspaper statements to the effect that the President had, on the 20th of June last, addressed a letter to Secretary Delano, asking for his resignation, and that Delano had visited Long Branch and besought the President to retain him in the Cabinet, are without any foundation whatever. No such letter was ever written by the President. Neither has Delano been to Long Branch this season.

Chief Clerk Avery Indicted.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day was officially informed of the indictment of Chief Clerk Avery, and will relieve him from duty this afternoon or to-morrow. The Secretary has not yet designated his successor.

Chief Clerk Avery Resigned.

Chief Clerk Avery tendered his resignation to the Secretary of the Treasury to-day, and it was promptly accepted.

THE UTAH BUTCHERY.

Trial of John D. Lee at Beaver—Damaging Testimony by a Lady Witness—Lee's Report of the Slaughter.

BEAVER, UTAH, July 26.—To-day Ann Elizabeth Hoag swore she lived at Harmony in 1857. There was a meeting called before Lee and the Indians started for the massacre. It was stated at the meeting that the emigrants would be destroyed. An express was sent to Brigham Young after the soldiers and Indians started.

Lee's Report.

After the massacre a meeting was called to hear Lee's report. Lee stood up and said he wanted the Indians to rush on the emigrants. A man came out from the emigrants. Lee promised peace if they would give up their arms. They agreed, and marched out alongside the soldiers, who shot them down at a signal, and the Indians killed the women. He said one man had a baby in his arms. After the first fire Lee said: "Give up that child." The man replied: "If I die, this child dies with me. I know you, John D. Lee, despite your paint." Lee said he had to shoot the man and child. While reporting, an express from Young arrived. I saw the children in a wagon in front of the meeting house. One boy, eight years old, pointed to Indian Joe and said: "That man killed my papa; got my papa's pants." I never saw the boy afterwards. Lee said not to talk to the children; he wanted them to forget about the massacre.

Thomas P. Willis Sworn.

I saw goods of the murdered emigrants at Cedar City—fifteen or twenty wagons, and four or five hundred head of stock; heard Haight before the attack ask my father the best way to attack the train. After the massacre, I saw property of the emigrants in wagons in front of the meeting house in Cedar City. The Indians washed their bloody clothing in a ditch in Cedar City; saw the children; Higbee had a boy seven or eight years old; my brother had one; Burbuck had one; saw them in 1859, at the Indian reservation, in the care of Dr Forney. The Mormons had a military organization; the men had drill every Saturday. The property of the emigrants at the tithing house was sold at auction.

THE CROP PROSPECT.

Reports from Various Counties in Nebraska.

OMAHA, July 26.—The Herald publishes in the morning specials from the following counties:

CLAY—Harvesting is promising; fine wheat, good quality, yield fifteen to twenty bushels to the acre. Oats is good. Corn and potatoes are very fine.

SALINE—Wheat, fifteen bushels to the acre. Oats is good. Barley is badly damaged, though the yield will be large. Corn and potatoes are immense.

CUMMING—Everything is first class. Harvest is about done in Northeastern Nebraska. In the vicinity of Sioux City the crops are not very favorable. It is thought wheat will yield an average of eighteen bushels. Barley is bad.

NEMOHA—Small grain in only a small portion of the county is not half a crop. Barley is bad. Early corn is splendid; late promises well.

LANCASTER—The most bountiful harvest, except barley, which is not over half a crop.

JOHNSON.—Wheat, fifteen bushels to the acre. Barley half a crop. Oats is good. Corn is fine.

CASS—Does not report at all flatteringly, except corn and potatoes. Barley is especially bad.

The weather in the past ten days has been good in most localities in the State, and great efforts have been made to complete the harvest, which have been in the main successful.

THE BLACK HILLS.

Encouraging Discoveries by Prof. Janney—Over 1,000 Miners in the New Gold Fields.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Inter-Ocean's special correspondent in the Black Hills, under the date of July 20, telegraphs from Harney's Peak, via Fort Laramie, that Prof. Janney has discovered encouraging prospects along Spring and Rapid Creeks, where he has been laboring with his corps for the past two years. He reports an abundance of water, probably from one to twelve inches, with a fine fall of seventy-five to eighty feet per mile; also a number of flats that promise from three to three and one-half cents per pan from grass roots to the bed rock. The ore, it is estimated, on Spring and Rapid Creeks, not less than three hundred miners, and disseminated throughout the hills about eight hundred, although some place the number at from 1,000 to 1,500. The gold in the new diggings is of coarse quality and greater quantity than that discovered on French creek. Miners are coming into the hills at the rate of twenty daily. The gulches and ravines are thickly settled.

Col. Dodge left this morning with two companies of cavalry for Prof. Janney's camp. The remainder of the command will occupy Harney for several weeks, or until the Indian Commission arrives. We will then move north to Bear Butte, where the next permanent camp will be made.

....It is said that Mr. C. Howard will soon assume the Superintendency of the work on the Hiland avenue reservoir and that Mr. John S. Love will retire.

....The boy named Buck, who was injured at Lock No. 2 last week, mention of which has already been made in our columns, is lying in a critical condition.

....The proprietors of the gambling houses which recently commenced running double turn have shut up again in compliance with orders to that effect from Mayor McCarthy.

....A house occupied by Mr. Michael, on Mt. Oliver, was damaged by fire yesterday morning to the extent of about one hundred dollars. The building is owned by one Kreiling, and is fully insured.

....There was quite a severe storm in Lawrenceville, near Forty-sixth street, yesterday afternoon. It toppled over a number of telegraph poles, and blew down a half mile of the fire alarm telegraph wire.

....At an inquest on the body of John E. Miller, who died suddenly on Ohio street, Third ward, Allegheny, on the 22nd inst., which was held last night, the Coroner's jury found that the deceased committed suicide by taking arsenic.

....Alderman Joseph Butler held an adjourned inquest on the body of John Raible, who was run over at the freight depot of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad, on Friday night. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Quinn, at one dollar per lineal foot for twenty inch pipe, twenty-one cents for eight inch and twenty cents for six inch pipes.

....A Pittsburgher named Doerin committed suicide at Cincinnati on Friday night by drowning himself in the Ohio river. He had lost his situation as bookkeeper here and went to Cincinnati in search of employment, but failing to find any he got despondent and took his own life. His wife and three children are yet in that city.

....A rule was granted on James Cassidy, by the Quarter Sessions Court, on application of Judge Mellon, last Saturday, requiring him to show cause why he should not testify before the Commissioner who was appointed to take testimony in the matter of an appeal taken from the assessment of the viewers of Try street. The rule was made returnable next Saturday.

....The roofs of two dwelling houses located at the corner of Linden and Knoll streets, Allegheny, caught fire about ten o'clock yesterday forenoon from chimney sparks, but the fire was extinguished with a "Babcock" before it had done a great deal of damage. The loss, which amounts to about $500, will fall upon Mr. Benjamin Patterson, the owner of the buildings, but he is fully insured.

....Dr. W. W. Cole, Physician to the Allegheny Board of Health, reports thirty-four deaths in that city last week, as follows: Cholera infantum 8, convulsions 4, unknown 2, typhoid fever 3, accident 3, consumption 2, and one each of the following: Spinal meningitis, typho cerebritis, tubercular meningitis, summer complaint, morbid dentition, capillary bronchitis, tetanus, inflammatory diarrhea, still born, and rheumatism of the heart. Married 7, single 27. White 32, colored 2. Males 18, females 16.

....She tried to sit down in the street car, but was pinned back so tight she couldn't. Old lady peeped over her specs and asked her, "How long have you been afflicted that way?" The young lady blushed and made "a break," sitting down sideways and holding her knees together so tight that she looked as if she had on a one legged pair of breeches. Old lady noticed her sitting in this sidewise cramped position and whispered: "Bile, I s'pose; I've had 'em myself."

....A lady riding in a Western avenue car, in Allegheny, on Sunday evening, pulled the bell at Robinson street. The car stopped, and she proceeded to the back platform, but finding that she had forgotten her parasol, went back for it. Although the whole affair did not take more than half a minute, the conductor rang the bell to go ahead, saying he would not stop again till he got over the bridge. The lady asked him to let her off, and he replied that he had stopped once for her and would not do it again. Finding that he would not help her, she attempted to get off while the car was in full speed, but was thrown on her face, injuring her severely and, for a moment, rendering her insensible. A carriage was procured and she was conveyed home.

PERSONAL.

Sheriff Hare returned from a trip to Indian Creek yesterday. He states that he enjoyed "camp life" hugely.

Assistant United States District Attorney George Wilson, returned from Erie yesterday, where he has been attending Court for the pass few days.

Mr. Louis Neeb, one of the proprietors of the Freiheits Freund, yesterday started with his family for a summer jaunt to Lake Chautauqua, Niagara Falls, and the Lakes.

Mr. J. G. Battelle, of the Telegraph corps, will leave to-morrow for a summer trip on his native heath in Southern Ohio. He carries with him the benisons of the corps reportorial of the city press.

Rev. R. Audley Brown, Prohibition candidate for Governor, was in the city yesterday. He attended the meeting of the Alliance at their rooms on Penn avenue, where he was invited to make a speech, but declined on account of ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. Sedgwick Wells, of the Thirty-sixth ward, South Side, celebrated their "Golden Wedding" on last Saturday. The occasion was one of pleasant memories to themselves and to the large number of friends who assembled with them to indulge in felicitations over the fiftieth anniversary of a matrimonial union which had been fruitful of peace, prosperity and joy. The friends of the venerable and esteemed couple testified their regard for them by gifts of value and beauty, and the evening was spent with genuine good cheer and social feeling.

ELECTION ASSESSORS' BILLS.

They are Still Coming In.

We have already alluded to complaints having been made, in regard to unusually large bills being returned by a number of Election Assessors from the various precincts of the several wards of the two cities. A case which will probably receive attention, was called to the notice of Clerk Snively in the Controller's office a few days ago. It appears that an Assessor returned a bill for a certain number of days, and on examination it was found that the official demanded pay for three days more than he had in his books out counting even Sundays. He swore to his account and the money was paid over.

The Assessors of the Eighth ward, Pittsburgh, have returned the smallest bills which have come in from either of the two cities. It only cost the county ten dollars to have two hundred and fifty-one names registered in the First Precinct of this ward, and nine dollars to register the Third Precinct. The second district is yet to hear from.

There are a number of other Precincts which have also been registered at reasonable rates, but where such large demands have been made on the county for booking less than two hundred and fifty names, prosecutions are still threatened against the Assessors asking the payment of their bills.

HORRIBLY MANGLED.

A Man Run Over by a Train on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

A horrible accident took place near Hawkin's Station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, yesterday afternoon, in which John Kelly was instantly killed. It appears that Kelly, who was a workman on the railroad track, was busily engaged, when the Wall's accommodation train going west came up, which he failed to notice until it was too late, and the engine struck him, knocking him on one of the rails, and the wheels passed over his body lengthwise, cutting it in two pieces. The mangled corpse was taken up, and conveyed to the late residence of the deceased, at Hulton Station, and the Coroner notified. 'Squire Russell, of Braddock's was telegraphed to hold an inquest. Deceased was an Irishman by birth, fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and family.

THE COUNTY TREASURER.

Opinion of Attorney General Dimmick.

The opinion of Attorney General Dimmick respecting the Treasurership of Allegheny county, and the necessity of holding an election therefor this fall, to which reference has already been made, is as follows:

HONESDALE, July 17, 1875.

HON. RUSSELL ERRETT, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: On my return home this morning I found your favor of the 13th inst. I am clear in the opinion you should select a County Treasurer at the coming November election, although I am inclined to think the present incumbent may hold over to March 1st. However this may be, and it is a matter for the present incumbent and his successor to settle in the courts, it does not change, in my judgment, the time you should elect—next November.

Assuming the Constitution went into effect January 1st, 1874, the case is then presented of an officer who was elected under the act of May 27th, 1841, for the term of two years, but whose term of office did not commence until the new Constitution had gone into effect fixing the time of such officers for three years; and the question arises, does the new Constitution extend the term of such officer for an additional year?

I am clear in the opinion that article fourteen of section second of the new Constitution applies only to county officers elected subsequent to its adoption, and does not operate to extend the term of those elected previously, although their term of office commenced after the new Constitution went into effect.

By reference to section twenty-six of the schedule, it will be observed that provision is made that all persons in office at the time of the adoption of the Constitution, and at the first election under it, "shall hold their respective offices until the term for which they have been elected or appointed shall expire, and until their successors shall be duly qualified, unless otherwise provided in this Constitution."

The purpose of this section is clear—to preserve the term of office of those in office for the period they were elected or appointed. It does not extend the same—and there is no provision in the Constitution providing otherwise for the office of County Treasurer.

Yours with high respect,
SAMUEL E. DIMMICK,
Attorney General.

HEADQUARTERS ALLEGHENY COUNTY PROHIBITION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, COR. PENN AVENUE AND SIXTH STREET, PITTSBURGH, July 6th, 1875.

Dear Friends—Again you are called upon to rally for the right. The Executive Committee of the request that every true friend of the cause throughout the county assemble at their respective voting places on

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7th,

FROM

FOUR TO SIX O'CLOCK P. M.,

or, where preferred, to call a public Ward, Borough or Township meeting, and elect from each precinct four Delegates to represent their district in the Nominating Convention, to be held on

Monday, August 9,

At 10 O'clock A. M.

The women, being deeply interested in our success will be admitted as delegates, and two men and two women will compose the delegation from each election precinct of the county. It is hoped that every praying mother, who sees the snares and traps set for her son's destruction, and who regards her daughter's welfare, will assist in having every precinct represented. Only those who present proper credentials will be entitled to seats in the Convention.

The Delegates will convene at Lafayette Hall, Wood street, below Fourth avenue, and nominate candidates for the various county offices to be filled at the ensuing November election.

A mass meeting will be held in the evening, and will be addressed by our candidate for Governor, Hon. ROBERT AUDLEY BROWNE, and others.

A meeting of the County Executive Committee is held at Headquarters every MONDAY, at 11 o'clock, A. M., which you are requested to attend.

Relying upon the power of the Holy Spirit to convince our people of their duty to use the ballot for the suppression of the dram-shop curse, which is an abomination in the sight of the Lord and all good citizens, causing corruption, crime, suffering, waste and want greater than all other agencies of Satan combined. Who can estimate the sin and misery caused by the $152,000,000 spent for intoxicating liquors in this State during the last year, and the rich blessings it might have secured?

"Ask and ye shall receive," is the precious promise. Then let us unite in a petition for just what we need, and for nothing less than a Gideon's victory by "the sword of the Lord" and the ballot. A prompt, united and prayerful effort will save a long conflict and thousands of precious lives.

Trusting that your love for Christ and humanity will lead you to respond to this call, we earnestly entreat you to see that a full delegation attend the Convention from your district.

By order of the Executive Committee.

Chairman.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112⅝.

JUDGE FISHER has at last reigned, and ex-Governor Wells, of Virginia, will soon assume his place.

THE Post doesn't answer our fraternal inquiries about the Salary Grabber Randall. Will the Democratic Convention recognize him,—thus aiding his efforts for the Speakership of the House? Remember, he is the same Randall that advocated and took, and kept the back pay steal.

SECRETARY DELANO is the subject still, of conflicting reports. One, that the President had demanded his resignation in June last, was so palpably unlikely, that we gave it no attention. The denial now comes in very positive form. He has not been requested to resign, but, on the contrary, the President desires him to stay till the pending investigation is ended.

A CONFLICT has been precipitated between the cotton spinners and their employers, at Oldham, England, over the rate of wages to be paid. Over thirty cotton mills have been closed, and the operatives locked out. It is to be borne in mind that labor troubles are not confined to this country, but exist in England, as well as here. The troubling influences are widespread and serious.

THERE was method, after all, in Plimpsoll's madness. His violent outbreak seems to have been deliberately designed to attract popular attention to his bill, and it has had just that effect. He now proposes to apologize for his rudeness, thus soothing the wounded dignity of the House, and then urge his measure as a provisional merely, and to be operative as an experiment, for one year only. It is thought that it may thus be passed.

THE camp meeting season, with its period of cottage life in the woods, is now fairly upon us, and the present Summer seems fruitful of more meetings than have been held any year. At Urbana, Ohio, one is in progress now,—while in our immediate vicinity four, and possibly more, are to be held. Already families are residing in the grove at Tarentum, Sewickley, Loyalhanna, and it is thought that large meetings will be held at the proper time.

IT is astonishing that a party platform should carry so much enlightenment along with it, as it does. We do not remember to have seen an intelligible or decided utterance, in the Post, on the monetary question, until the duty of good Democrats was defined in the Ohio platform. Now it is clear as mud on the question. But how about it, should the Pennsylvania Democracy not happen to go just as far as the Ohioans, in their declarations on the subject?

THE delectable enjoyment of assaulting editors seems to be still indulged in Cleveland, chiefly by street contractors. One, who conceived himself insulted, concluded to try his hand on the Leader's editor, but the intervention of an iron cane suddenly persuaded the irate contractor that he had undertaken a somewhat difficult task. The supplemental influence of arrest and bonds to keep the peace, left the soothed and pacified contractor at liberty to repair his wounded head, and to be less considerate of his injured dignity.

THE decision of the Court of Appeals in the Tweed case, in New York, has occasioned much bitter discussion, which still continues. The action of Judge Davis, in pronouncing accumulated sentences, is severely criticised, as involving bad faith, and gross injustice. On the other hand, his action is defended, as being in accord with English precedent. It seems really to be a new feature in criminal practice, and to involve questions over which the lawyers differ. We are not certain, however, that the discussion has not been forced, in order that it may be made to manufacture sympathy for Tweed.

THE correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, referring to the political situation in this State, says: "The Democrats of Pennsylvania will assemble at Erie on September 6, and declare for time-honored Democratic principles, the foremost of which will be the speedy resumption of specie payments. Such action will command the admiration of intelligent and honest men throughout the Union, who, despairing of any remedy from the Republican party, look to the Democracy for relief from official corruption and extravagance." This is rather mixed,—but that part referring to the purposes of the Democracy seems unlike the utterances of the Post, and we are curious to know which is correct,—the Democratic organ here, or that in Baltimore.

WE noticed in our financial column, yesterday, the break in the Chicago grain market, giving the accepted cause,—the withdrawal of the English purchasers. It proves that the sudden fall in prices has wrought serious injury to the grain speculators of that city, nor do they deserve sympathy. No men have wrought more injury to the West and Northwest than the Chicago grain speculators. In place of doing a legitimate business, they inflate or depress prices, usually so managing it that the farmers receive but a small amount for their grain. They then try to unload at high figures. The short European crop insured a good sale, but prices were hurried up and the English buyers went out of the market. The fall that followed impoverished several speculators.

THE Whisky Ring people have been testing the strength of Secretary Bristow's backbone for a month or more past; and when they are done with their experiments we will be glad to have them publish the result. The offer of money in excess of what is likely to be received, if prosecutions are pushed, has been made, but the Secretary obdurately persists in his purpose to urge the suits. We hope he will persist in this purpose. It was time it were decided that we have law, and that its demands will be enforced. If this is not done, and the rule obtains that crime can be condoned with money, it will be hard to control the growth of rascality. But the Secretary needs to see very carefully to his law-department officials. There are ugly rumors afloat as to their spirit toward the whisky cases.

THERE is an apparent uncertainty at the East as to the political prospects in this county, the coming Fall. The defeat of the Republican ticket, last Fall, was so incomprehensible to those who do not understand the inside phases of our local politics, that they seem to have lost all faith in Allegheny county. Let us say, to all such, that the result last year was rather due to dissatisfaction among Republicans, with at least a portion of the ticket, than to any strength possessed by the Democracy. This year the tables are turned. The Republican ticket is as nearly satisfactory to the party as it can well be. It is well divided between Pittsburgh, Allegheny, and the country. It is made up of irreproachable material, and while effort will be put forth, necessarily, to overcome the moral influence of last year's defeat, no doubt is entertained as to the result. The Democracy, on the other hand, have a singularly unpopular ticket. They have, so far as we know, but a single popular man, who is offset by one equally popular on the Republican ticket. Their ticket is made up almost entirely from Pittsburgh, and has an objectionable proportion of Catholics on it. Altogether we look for a turn over from the Democrats, this year, about equal to that of Republicans to them last year. This is our view of the situation, and we think the results will be about as we predict. Governor Hartranft is popular here; and while Mr. Rawle is not largely known, he has warm personal friends in our county who are doing him good service.

WE heartily endorse and approve the decision of Judge Blodgett, of Chicago, requiring the Joliet and Northern Indiana Railroad to keep faith with its European bondholders. That company borrowed $800,000 abroad, for which it mortgaged the road, and on which it agreed to pay 8 per cent. interest. All went well enough till the principal became due, when the road having been leased to another company, and being bare of rolling stock, it was proposed to cheat the foreign creditors by letting the mortgage be foreclosed, the road sold out, and the debt thus extinguished at about twenty-five cents or less on the dollar. It was just this form of rascality that Judge Blodgett stopped, by requiring the operating company to pay the proceeds into the hands of a Receiver, who shall pay the interest on bonds and apply the surplus to the payment of the principal. The road has been making enough to have paid interest, and principal, but the surplus after paying interest was divided, and so when the bonds matured, there was no money to pay them. The one great cause of American discredit abroad is just such villainous operations. They are so transparently dishonest, that they serve to create the impression that the people of this country are saturated with dishonesty. If we borrow money in Europe, at a stipulated rate, no matter if the bargain proves to have been unwise and hard, common honesty requires that we should fulfil the contract entered into. Foreign loans are, to a considerable extent, made up from the earnings, and represent the investments of the poor. It matters not, however, whence the money comes, it is wrong to thus borrow and cheat; but it is doubly wrong when the poor are defrauded. We hope Judge Blodgett will be followed by other Judges.

DEMOCRATIC FAITH.

Just now when the Democracy are putting forth an effort to increase their hold on power, the Liberal and "independent" element that aided them last Fall are beginning to count the cost of extending further support. The primary inquiry turns upon the measure of gratitude displayed for what was done last year. When the control of power came, did they abide by their pledges, or reward their colaborers? The whole "independent" element, so far as we remember, favored an early return to specie payments, and the Democrats were pledged to this; yet they have gone into the wildest theories of inflation. Their battle cry for two years past has been, "reform in the character of men selected for high positions." They have elected United States Senators,—but have not chosen either distinguished Liberals, or even men known to the country as possessed of ability and character. In particular States, their use of power has been exceptionally wild and dangerous. In Missouri, Illinois, and this State, the branches of Legislature under Democratic control were little better than mobs. Extravagance followed hard on pledges of economy; wild and useless legislation succeeded promises of intelligence and care. In brief, so far as we remember, all the pledges made have been deliberately broken, and a spirit of wildness and irresponsibility substituted.

All this is the less remarkable when we remember that the faith of that party has been extremely unsettled for many years. Its platforms were constructed with reference to the chances for gaining power, rather than as expressions of strongly and conscientiously held opinions, from the time of the outbreak of the war till now. During the war it strongly sympathized with the rebellion, but dared go no farther than carp at special and particular acts of the Lincoln administration. In 1864, it grew bold enough to declare as a fact,—what it wished to be true,—that the war was a failure, and nominated as a candidate for the Presidency a General who had been little else than a failure. Both the platform and candidate were repudiated by the people. That party opposed the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, and afterward proposed to accept them. It has been for and against nearly every prominent measure that has been up in the country, and the result is, it is adrift as to all convictions whatever. The inflation cry in Ohio is, in reality, designed merely to catch the votes of those who think that more greenbacks will make better times. It does not represent a conviction, although success may lead to efforts to formulate it into a policy. The truth is, that party is pursuing a line of operations that means only one thing,—the attainment of power. This done, and the intention is to use that power, if gained, just as circumstances seem to direct.

It is not the purpose to keep faith with the people any more than it has been to act fairly with old associates. It has deliberately abandoned every principle it professed to hold in common with the Liberals. It has put aside eminent men of the Liberal faith, for unknown, nondescript Democrats, when offices were to be filled. Its tendencies are toward the wildest phases of its past history,—Bourbonism repeated in Republican American. Worse, it shows a strong tendency to become subject to Roman Catholicism, and to be the political exponent of Ultramontanism in this country. These are not random assertions. They are not of localities merely, but the party in every part of the country. There was never a time,—even during the dark days of the rebellion,—when it was more important to inflict on that party a defeat so crushing that it will end its existence, and compel the formation of a new party, which shall be the representative of better principles, and that shall be free, at least, from a bad history. Fortunately, in this State, there is little to fear. The Republican ticket is so strong, and commands so unreservedly the confidence of the people, that all fears of its defeat have entirely fled away. In other States the outlook may not be so good,—yet in Ohio, the declaration is made that our majority will be worth a jubilee, when it comes to be recorded. And all this, partly because of lack of confidence in Democratic faith.

PEACE has been restored at San Miguel, the scene of the late Ultramontaine riots in San Salvador. The Bishop of San Tecla and seven priests were secretly arrested and hurried under a guard of one hundred soldiers, to Port Libertad, where they were put on board a steamer and sent into Nicaragua. Bishop Carcamo has been expelled from the country, also Provisor Rodriguez. It was discovered that similar outbreaks to that of San Miguel had been arranged all over the Republic.

THE RECENT CORNER STONE LAYING.

Doctrines of the Presbyterian Church in Regard to Processions and Demonstrations.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The recent discussions in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the German church, on Smithfield street, and the part taken by the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, seem to demand some more full and explicit statement of the views of the body to which he belongs.

1. The Presbyterian Church desires and permits no one to enter her ministry who cannot sincerely adopt her standards of doctrine and morals. This is plain, from the following, among other questions asked of each candidate for ordination: "Do you sincerely receive and adopt the confession of faith of this Church as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?" This follows the candidate's expressed "belief in the Scriptures as the only infallible rule of faith and practice." To these plain questions, of course Mr. Scovel must have given his solemn affirmative reply before he could be ordained or installed as pastor over any Presbyterian congregation.

2. In assuming the solemn vows at ordination, each minister comes under a sacred obligation to teach, among others, chapter XXI, section 8, of the Presbyterian Confession, where we read that "'since the resurrection of Christ, the Sabbath was changed from the last day into the first day of the week, in Scripture called the Lord's day,' this, we are are told, is 'to be continued to the end of the world as the Christian Sabbath.' In the next section of the Confession of Faith, the manner in which the day is to be kept holy is declared to be, 'by observing a holy rest all the day from works, words and thoughts about our worldly employments and recreations.' To this the only exceptions are expressly stated to be 'the duties of necessity and mercy.' The Scriptural proof in the margin refers to Exodus XX, where is recorded as part of the Decalogue the Fourth Commandment, and in that commandment we read, 'in it (the Sabbath day) thou shalt not do any work.' And the sins forbidden, among others, are 'all needless works, words, and thoughts about our worldly employments and recreations." Other equally clear and explicit expositions of the nature of the Lord's Day, and the Scriptural manner of its observance, might be adduced from the Presbyterian Confession of Faith; but let these suffice."

Such being the doctrine of the Sabbath, also the required mode of its observance, let us next look at the subject in its practical aspects as expounded by our General Assembly, remembering also that every minister, before ordination "promises subjection to his brethren in the Lord." To quote the half of these declarations of our Supreme Court would far exceed our limits. Take as specimens the following:

"WHEREAS, There seems to be on the part of some a systematic effort to destroy all sense of the sacredness and Divine authority of the day, by false and unscriptural views of the subject, as well as by frequent public processions and demonstrations; and

"WHEREAS, It is to be feared that these pernicious teachings and practices are producing laxity of views and principles in regard to the sanctity of the Sabbath, especially in the minds of youth; therefore,

"Resolved, That this Assembly bears its solemn and unequivocal testimony against all demonstrations and practices which are inconsistent with the teachings of God's Word, as interpreted in the Standards of our Church."

Observe here that "processions and demonstrations," such as were recently witnessed in our city, are expressly mentioned and condemned.

To this we may add the action of the Presbytery of Allegheny, which was reviewed, approved, and thus virtually adopted by our General Assembly, as follows:

"This Presbytery does especially enjoin upon all under its care to refrain from participation in parades, processions, and traveling on the Sabbath; and further enjoins upon heads of families to prohibit in their households the reading of the so-called Sunday newspapers, as inconsistent with a proper observance of the Lord's Day."

Such, then, being the theory and practice taught in our Standards, in relation to the subject of Sabbath observance—such being the solemn ministerial vows under which every Presbyterian minister has voluntarily come—by what sort of logic can any such minister give his countenance to such parades and processions as those condemned? Surely if nothing else, conscience should forbid him to repudiate his own sacred official vows, partaking, as they do, almost of the sanctity of an oath.

One word in conclusion: If Mr. S. has seen cause to change his former views on the Sabbath, he has a perfect right to do so. But let him [illegible] whose tenets he no longer deems binding, and thus practically contribute to overthrow the very system which, by his profession, he is pledged to teach and propagate. Let him go where he will be in sympathy with his fellow religionists, and where his disregard of the Sabbath will not continue to suggest a painful doubt of his practical views being in harmony with his original declarations of belief.

TRUTH.

P.S. Since the foregoing was written I have seen the explanation given by Mr. S. last Sabbath. The real difficulty is this—how any Presbyterian minister, who possesses a proper sense of the sacredness of the Lord's Day and the solemnity of his official vows, could be entrapped into such a betrayal of the cause, and of his trust, on such an occasion. His explanation mitigales, but by no means justifies his equivocal conduct.

AT Council Bend and Walnut bed, on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi river, some forty or fifty miles below Memphis, some damage has been done on Dr. Peters' plantation by the caving in of some twenty acres, necessitating the removal of his residence and gin house. The following plantations also suffered some light damage: Tates', Jesse Gubris', J. M. Williamson's, Fred Roger's, Ben Dupuy's, Dr. Mooney's, Gentrys and Ellis'. The latter three, near Fort Penny, opposite Friar's Point, have suffered considerably from a crevasse in the old town levee. Many others would have sustained serious damage but for the prompt action of the proprietors in building levees.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Address of the Republican State Committee.

To the Republicans of Pennsylvania:

The political campaign upon which we are entering is one of more than ordinary importance, and we, therefore, invoke your hearty co-operation in our efforts to press the claims of the Republican party to public confidence and support.

The success of that party is essential, in our judgment, to the prosperity of the State, to the perpetuity of the Union, and to the permanence of the principles upon which the Government is founded.

The control of the administration of State affairs fell into Republican hands in 1861, and we point with pride to the record of that control. The State debt has been reduced from forty millions to twenty-three millions of dollars; the State taxes upon real estate and upon the personal property employed in agricultural pursuits have been repealed; the resources of the State have been developed; the admirable school system which distinguishes our Commonwealth has been fostered and strengthened; the orphans of her brave soldiers who fell in the war have been fed, clothed, educated and fitted for active life, and the varied interests of the people have been protected and encouraged.

Under no previous administration has the State been so uniformly prosperous and well cared for; and the slight experience which the people had last winter of one branch of the Legislature under Democratic control may well lead them to the conviction that they have everything to lose and nothing to gain by a change in the administration of public affairs.

The candidates for State offices presented by the Republican party are in every way worthy of public confidence and of a hearty support. Governor Hartranft, during his six years' service as Auditor General, earned a very high character as a public officer, and his administration of the Executive Department has won the respect and commendation of all, without distinction of party. Unflinching integrity, unbending honesty and a faithful attention to the duties of his office, have characterized his administration throughout, and certainly no Governor ever more richly deserved a re-election.

Our candidate for State Treasurer is a new man to public life, but one in whom are combined all the qualifications of a good public officer. His capacity for the place is admitted by all, and his well-known character for integrity and business ability is also conceded by his political opponents.

Having, therefore, a State ticket strong in all the elements that commend candidates to public favor, a platform of principles which has challenged the admiration of Republicans throughout the country, and a record of State administration to which we can all look back with a pardonable pride, we are justified, as a party, in claiming that we have faithfully met our responsibilities and that we are entitled to a continuance of public confidence.

Parties are worthy of support only so long as they advance wise and patriotic principles and promote the honest and efficient administration of public affairs; and as the Republican party is entitled to the credit of both, it justly lays claim to a verdict of popular approval.

There are many matters of detail in which the Republican party differs from the Democratic; but there is one radical difference which, so long as it exists, will render the existence of the Republican party a public necessity. That difference consists in the fact that the Republican party believes that the United States form a Nation with all the functions of a National Sovereignty, while the Democratic party regards the Federal Government as a mere league between the States, which are each, in its view, sovereign and independent. The Republicans believe in the indissolubility of the Union of the States, whilst the Democratic party believes that the Federal Government has no power to protect its own existence or prevent any State from asserting its independence.

This is a difference which involves the very life of the Government. When the Rebellion broke out in 1861, while James Buchanan was still in office as President, he shrank, appalled, from the duty of preserving the Union intact, and yielded to the advice of his Attorney General that there was no power in the General Government to coerce a State. Had that Rebellion occurred at the beginning, instead of at the close, of his administration, it would have been at once successful. Under the Democratic idea of State rights, Mr. Buchanan would have been compelled to let the Southern States go.

With the prominence at present given by the Democratic party to its one distinguishing doctrine of State Sovereignty, as opposed to that of National Sovereignty, the advent of that party to power in the nation would naturally bring with it the danger of a second assertion of the right of States to secede from the Union. Our previous experience of the inability of the Democratic party in power to attempt the coercion of a rebellious State should certainly be sufficient to teach the people the danger of entrusting the Government to hands too weak or unwilling to protect it.

Should it ever become necessary, hereafter, to assert the power of the General Government to promote the public welfare, in any matter of general concern, as, for instance, in preventing local restrictions upon the free transportation of persons or produce, or in removing natural obstructions thereto, the Democratic doctrine, faithfully adhered to, would prevent that party from legislating upon it, Congressionally. The National Government cannot, in fact, be carried on succesfully, nor can the necessities of a people, with interests so great and so grand as those of the American people, be properly met and provided for by any party holding strictly to the idea that the Government is but a federal league, or separate and independent State sovereignties.

The Republican party of the State and the nation stands now, as ever, by the rights of labor as entitled to the protection of the Government; by universal freedom and universal suffrage sustained by universal education; by the public school system, with the taxation of all for its support, and opposed to any division of the school fund for any purpose whatever; by the common law of the nation which interdicts a third election to the Presidency; by a tariff so adjusted as to be the least burthensome and most favorable to the interests of labor and industry; by the financial legislation which secures free banking upon a sound basis and provides for a safe and uniform currency, sufficient for the public wants; by such a revision of the patent laws as will relieve industry from oppression and secure to the inventor a fair remuneration; by a faithful execution of the laws, the suppression of lawlessness, and the enforcement of the Constitution as it stands; and by that general policy which will preserve the Union intact, whether assailed from within or without.

We are now entering upon the closing year of the first century of American Independence, and it behooves the Republicans of Pennsylvania, who believe heartily not only in the words, but in the spirit of the Declaration of Independence, to show their faith by their works, and rally firmly and unitedly to the support of their principles. We counsel them, in view of the interests which are at stake, to forget all their past differences; to organize actively and efficiently; to present none but good and true men for local offices; and, standing firmly by what they believe and know to be right, demonstrate their claim to public confidence. The second century of our national existence should begin, as the first one did, by a supreme devotion to Republican principles, to which only a Republican administration, in State or nation, can be or will be faithful.

The experience of the past furnishes abundant evidence that the best interests of the people demand the continuance of the enlightened and liberal course of the Republican party in its well-defined and clearly announced purpose to foster the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of the country; in its policy which has led to a reduction of seventeen millions of the State debt and six hundred millions of the national debt; in its judicious system of internal improvements, having for their objects the enlargement of facilities and reductions in the cost of transportation for our inter-State commerce; in its firm adherence to an indissoluble Union and to the unity and sovereignty of the nation; in its honest and faithful administration of the laws; and in its stern devotion to the principles of truth and progress. Firm in that conviction we confidently present our platform and candidates for public support, thoroughly assured that in their success will be found the true and only road to National Unity, National Progress, and National Prosperity.

By order of the committee.
HENRY M. HOYT, Chairman.
A. WILSON NORRIS, Secretary.

VERDICT
In Favor of Howe's Standard Scales.

We, the undersigned, comprising all the wholesale Butchers of Chicago, are using the IMPROVED HOWE STANDARD SCALES, and after using Fairbanks' and other Scales, do find that the improvements in the HOWE Scale render it the best.
We use a scale severely, and find the HOWE to be the strongest.
We weigh out each day over thirty thousand dollars worth of meat, to the retail markets, in various quantities, and require our large scales to weigh small fractions of a pound.
This merit we have found is alone possessed by the IMPROVED HOWE and is maintained after the most severe and longest tests, being attributable to the patent chilled iron balls between the platform and knife edges, on which all friction is received, thus preserving the fine edge of the pivots on which the correct and delicate action of a scale depends.
We also find the IMPROVED HOWE SCALES the most economical, not needing the frequent repairs that Fairbanks' and other scales do.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, July 27, 1875.

There was an improved feeling pervading the banks yesterday, and a larger run of business than is usual on Monday. Occasional spurts of business do not indicate any special fact, but still there is a prevalent feeling, or faith, that a better business era is at hand. We are free to confess that we do not see upon what this idea is based, except so far as the coal returns will stimulate business in our city and surroundings. Yet we can perceive that the element called confidence is increasing in most parts of the country, and this is a sure precursor of revived business activity. Our grain crop, and the sure demand that will come from England, if Chicago speculators do not spoil the market, is an element of substantial hope. Thus we have an evident feeling that better times are coming, and the suggestion is fraught with inspiration.

The New York Post says of the general aspect of monetary commercial affairs: The gold and foreign exchange markets attract and deserve unusual attention, and for the reason that they foreshadow a much better condition of affairs in respect to the trade of the country than there was room for hoping a few weeks since. Until very recently there was no reason for expecting that Europe would not have full average crops, nor was it believed that our own harvests would be as bountiful as they are turning out. The discovery that Europe must buy an unusual amount of breadstuffs from us has created an advance speculative foreign demand, thus far chiefly on French account, for our products, and the result is, that at the time when we ship comparatively little of them, very large amounts are going out, and the foreign exchange market is supplied, to an extent beyond reasonable calculations, with bills. Of course it is much better for the country that its products other than gold should be shipped, than that we should pay our current indebtedness with other evidences of debt, like bonds or shares, or that we should export gold, which is especially needed here to enable the Government to prepare to redeem its promises to pay gold in 1879 for its notes, which form so important a part of our currency. If the European demand for grain continues as heavy as during the past two weeks, it is possible that the exchange market may be supplied from this source until cotton comes to market.

The foreign commerce of New York for last week was as follows: General merchandise imports (including dry goods), $7,001,511; produce exports, $6,263,632, and specie exports, $815,879. The total imports since January 1 this year are $201,100,066, against $239,175,023 for the corresponding period in 1874 and $240,141,972 in 1873. The total exports of produce since January 1 this year are $138,159,030, against $163,943,315 in 1874 and $157,131,573 in 1873. NEW YORK, July 26, 1875.

Gold was strong, opening at 112, advancing to 112⅜, and closing at 112⅜. The rates for use were 1@3 per annum, and 1-64 per diem. Governments are strong. Railroad bonds are firm. State securities are quiet.

Stocks opened firm, and afterward became strong and moderately active, with Western Union as the feature. The advance ranged from ¼ to 1⅜ per cent. During the afternoon the whole list was dull, and at two o'clock became weak and depressed, particularly for Pacific Mail, which declined 1⅛ per cent. After Pacific Mail came Western Union, Lake Shore and Erie. The former was, no doubt, depressed on account of a cablegram from Paris announcing the death of George H. Mumford, Esq., the able Vice President of the Western Union Company. Mariposa advanced to 12⅛. At the final close the market was irregular.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 132,000 shares, of which 13,000 were Pacific Mail, 52,000 Western Union, 10,000 Northwest, 4,000 St. Paul, 4,000 C. C. & I. C., 6,000 Erie, 30,000 Lake Shore, and 3,000 Union Pacific.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

There was apparently a better feeling in oil circles to-day, and while the improvement as yet has been very slight, it is hoped that a reaction has set in, and that our refiners will soon have better times. If there is not a change for the better, some of our refiners will soon be compelled to shut down as they are about through with all their old contracts, and there is no margin for profit in new ones at current rates. Crude was quoted this P. M. at $1,07 1 2a1,10—offers to buy at $1,05 were refused, showing an advance of 2 1-2a5c per bbl., as compared with Saturday. Refined also firmer, but without much change in prices; New York delivery, 10¾; Philadelphia and Baltimore, 11 cents, equal to about 8 1-2a8¾ on cars here.

The Barrel market continues quiet, and unchanged; countries, $1,15a1,25; city make, $1,28a1,35, according to size and quality.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, July 26, 1875.

There is a decidedly better feeling in commercial circles, and while business cannot by any means be termed active, it is better than it has been, and the outlook is brightening. With good crops and an increased export demand for the same, together with money easy and confidence being restored, our merchants and manufacturers are more hopeful of a good fall trade now than they have been at any time this year, and there is no good reason apparent why their expectations should not be fully realized. The most important feature to notice in the leading markets is the continued excitement in Breadstuffs, caused by the recent heavy and continued rains not only in this country but in Europe, and which, it is feared, have done considerable damage to the Wheat crop; as a consequence, Flour has been pushed up within the past couple of weeks fully one dollar per bbl., and Wheat 30a35c per bushel, but it is doubtful about the advance being maintained. The grocery trade is increasing, and both Sugars and Coffee are strong, with an upward tendency. There is a continued heavy demand for the hog products, and we have advanced our quotations on Sugar-Cured Hams, Breakfast and Mess Pork. Butter continues scarce, and for prime fresh prices have been further advanced. In general produce there is a fair business, but no important changes in values.

APPLES—New crop are coming in freely, mainly from the South, but with a steady demand there has been no accumulation, and prices are still maintained, ranging from $3a5 per bbl, according to quality.

ALE—Trade continues quiet and prices unchanged. City brands quoted as follows: X, $8 per bbl. to city, and $9 to country; XX, $10; India Ale, $11. Half bbls. at proportionate rates.

BEANS—In very limited supply, and with an increased demand, caused by the departure of the coal fleet, the market is firm, and the stock must have been pretty well cleaned up; we continue former quotations; $1,90 per bushel for mediums, and $2 for prime navies.

BERRIES, ETC., ETC.—Blackberries, 14a16c per quart. Whortleberries, $1,25a1,50 per pail. Pears, $7a8 per bbl. Peaches, $2a3 per box, according to quality and condition.

BUTTER—The supply of prime table Butter has not been equal to the demand for a couple of weeks past, which may be attributed in part to the fact that country people are busy harvesting, and the getting in of their crops is much more important to them just now than the marketing of produce; as a consequence, prices have been further advanced. We now quote prime to choice solid packed at 20a23; medium to good, 15a18, and common, 10a12. There is not much inquiry except for prime table Butter; old stock is hard to dispose of at any price. While a reaction is not improbable within the next week or two, it is not likely that prices will decline as low as they were prior to the advance; this is not the usual course of the market at this season of the year.

BROOMS—Are reported to be selling more readily. No change in prices has occurred, although manufacturers claim that there is no profit at present prices. We quote "Union Factory" Brooms as follows: No. 2 common, $2.25; No. 3 hurl, $2,50; No. 4 hurl, $3; No. 5 hurl, $3,50; No. 6 hurl, $3,75; No. 3 carpet, $4; No. 4 carpet, $4,25; No. 5 carpet, $4,50; Fancy parlor, $4,75; Steamboat brooms, $3a4; Whisks, plain, $1,25a1,50; fancy whisks, $1,50a2; toy brooms, $1,25a1,75.

BROOM CORN—There is nothing new to note in this article. Manufacturers continue buying only as their needs require; and find a firm feeling on the part of the holders of the better grades, who claim that there can be no decline from present prices, owing to the fact that the new crop will be at least three weeks later than usual, will run great risk of frost, and that the present stocks will not more than supply the demand until new crop is ready for delivery. We quote green hurl, 12½a13; do medium, 11a12; do stalk braid, 11a12; inside and covers, 10a11½; do, brush corn, 12½a13. Pale and red brush ranges from 3 to 5c per lb. less than above quotations.

CHEESE—The market has been fairly active during the past week, and notwithstanding the receipts were liberal there has been no accumulation, and prices are still maintained; we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory at 11a11½, in a jobbing way. Low grade cheese continues very dull, indeed it is hard to dispose of in this market at any price.

COKE—There is nothing important to record in regard to this important article, excepting that a large amount was shipped out by river within the past few days; business by rail continues only moderate and we do not look for any decided improvement as long as there are so many pig-iron furnaces out of blast. Prices are nominally unchanged; $2,50a2,75 per ton delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh.

COAL—Since the date of our last review there has been a coal-boat rise, and it is estimated that about ten million bushels have been started for the Cincinnati, Louisville, and Southern markets, and there is a better feeling, not only among coal dealers, but the entire community in consequence. A great deal of money will be put in circulation by the getting of so much coal to market, miners will again have employment, and, as stated, it will have a very favorable influence upon the entire community.

CORDAGE AND ROPE—There is not much doing in this branch of business, nor is it to be expected at this particular time. No change in prices which we annex as follows:

|---|---|
| MANILA ROPE. | |
| ½ in. diameter and upwards | 15½ cts. per lb. |

| Russia | 18 " |
| Italian | 21 " |

DRIED FRUIT—There is scarcely any inquiry for dried fruit of any kind, nor is it to be expected in view of the fact that our markets are well stocked with fresh fruits and vegetables. In the absence of sales we omit quotations.

EGGS—The receipts continue light, but with a diminished demand, which was not unexpected, after the Fourth the market has been weaker, and we reduce our quotations to 18a19c. The consumption at this season of the year is always light, as there are but few buyers, aside from the bakers and hotels.

FLOUR—The market has been very much excited since the date of our last weekly report, in sympathy with wheat, and an advance of fully one dollar per bbl. as compared with the lowest point has been established. The future of the market is very unsettled, and operators generally differ in their views; some are of the opinion that the advance will be maintained, while others look for a sharp reaction. A great deal depends upon the export demand, which, according to present indications will be much larger this year than it has been, if the reports in regard to the damage by the rains to the wheat crop both in this country and Europe, are anything near correct. Quotations in a jobbing way, may be given as follows. Spring wheat flours, $6,75a7,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; winters, $6,75a7 for red, and $7,25a7,50 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6a6,25.

GROCERIES.—Coffee—The market for Rio is active, at an advance of full ½c per lb. since Wednesday, and the stock well under control. The latest Rio telegram is very favorable to holders, and is as follows: Rio, July 22,—

|---|---|
| Sales for the United States | 22,000 bags. |
| Shipments, do | 86,000 " |
| Loading | 70,000 " |
| Stock | 24,000 " |
| Average daily receipts | 5,500 " |
| Market very firm—price | 9-600 |
| Exchange | 26⅛ |

The new crop is now estimated at only 1,300,000 bags, against 3,800,000 bags last year. The current prices are 2c per lb. lower than at this date one year ago; but the prevailing opinion is that a material advance will soon come, and the market rule high in the fall months. It looks safe, at least to own Coffee just now. Java, Maricaibo, and all other descriptions firm, and the tendency upward. Sugars are higher, Yellows having appreciated ¼c in value, and standard refined ⅛ to ¼ of a cent at the close of the week, with a scarcity of goods and a brisk demand.

GRAIN—There has been, as already intimated, considerable excitement in Wheat since the date of our last review, and a sharp advance in prices is the result. No. 1 Penna and Ohio red, which a couple of weeks ago would not have brought more than $1,25, cannot be laid down here to-day under $1,45a1,50, although we do not know that buyers could be found here at quoted rates, as our millers are slow to follow an advancing market, particularly such a one as we have had during the past few days. Our latest advices, both from Chicago and New York, at this writing, report these markets weaker, and the foreign advices are of a similar character; however, while it is probable that the recent advance was too rapid to be permanent, it is not likely that prices will get back to where they were prior to this advance, as there is no longer any reason to doubt that the crop of Wheat this year, both in this country and Europe, will fall below an average. The Oat market continues very dull, but with light receipts and a limited supply, prices are still maintained; 57a58 cents for mixed, and 59a60 for white. It appears to be generally conceded that the yield of Oats this year will be almost unprecedented, and as a decline is regarded as being only a question of a little time, the trade generally are carrying just as little stock as they can possibly help. The receipts of Corn, both Ear and Shelled, continue light, but with a very light demand, the market is quiet and unchanged; distillers are generally out of the market; feeders are using it very sparingly, in consequence of the hot weather, and millers are buying little or none. Quotable at 75a78, as to quality. Rye is in light stock, and there is some inquiry for it; $1,12a1,15.

HAY—The arrivals of baled continue light, and the supply is not more than sufficient to meet the demand, hence the market is reported steady, although prices remain unchanged, ranging from $18a21 per ton, according to quality and condition. Loose—from country wagons, $28a22 for new, and $25a28 for old.

HIDES—The orders are small. Buyers restrict their purchases to small lots, barely sufficient to supply immediate wants. The market has a downward tendency. We quote:

LEATHER—The general market exhibits but little change since our last report. Upper kip and calf remain dull and low. No. 1 light spready harness and good oak rough leather brisk sale. Red sole, oak sole and pads in fair demand. Other kinds unchanged. We quote:

POULTRY—Live Chickens are coming forward freely, and prices are weak but unchanged; 45 to 55c per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—The market in the west has been excited, and an advance of half a cent on Sugar-cured Hams and Breakfast Bacon has been established. Bulk Shoulders ¼c up. Mess Pork uneasy with constant changes up and down. It is thought that an enhancement of values will follow the present firm market for Bacon. Lard steady, and offered sparingly. ## ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

The supply on sale, although in excess of that of last Monday, was light nevertheless, and with a supply scarcely equal to the demand for two weeks in succession, the market was active and strong at last week's rates. The whole number on sale footed up 555 head, against 513 last Monday; included in the offerings were 16 cars from Chicago, 7½ do. from Ohio, one car each from Indiana, Kentucky and Texas, while the balance were driven in from the adjoining country. In view of the fact that the offerings have been light for several weeks in succession, there was a very fair attendance of butchers, and that they did not hold back is evident from the fact that the yards were pretty well cleared by nine o'clock; this is the best evidence that can be obtained in regard to the market. When the pens are cleared early in the forenoon, as was the case to-day, it is evident that the market has been favorable to the selling interest, while, on the other hand, when there are a number remaining unsold at noon, it is evident, as a rule, that it has been unfavorable to sellers.

In regard to prices there was a difference of opinion; some reported the market strong at last week's prices, while others quoted an advance of an ⅛ to a ¼ on the best grades. The bulk of the offerings were rather common in point of quality; prime to choice native beeves were very scarce, and this accounts for the fact of their being reported higher, while there was no change on the common and medium grades; in a word, while the offerings of all kinds were small, the proportion of choice beeves was considerably less than that of the lower grades, and, hence, if there was any difference at all in prices, as compared with last week, it was in those first named. Sales were made at 7½a7¾c for prime to choice Chicago tops; 6¾a7 for medium to good do; 5a6 for fair to good grassers, and 3 1-2a4 1-2 for inferior to common.

Following shows the number of cattle on sale, the States they were from, and the names of the shipper or owner:

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was a very fair number on sale today, 1,371 against 1,085 last week; while the market, in consequence of an increased supply, was hardly as brisk as that of last Monday, and its general tone a shade easier, we do not think there was any quotable decline in prices. The bulk of the offerings of sheep were rather common in point of quality, and there would have been no difficulty in disposing of some prime fat ones at top prices, say 5¼a5½; medium to good, 4½a5; common, $2a2,50 per head. Lambs quotable at from $2a4 per head, according to weight, quality and condition. Dealers all admitted a good market last Monday, and that of to day was not much behind it. The stock on sale was reported as follows:

HOGS.

The retail trade in this class of stock continues very meagre, as it always is at this season of the year, but the general tone of the market was firmer, in sympathy with East Liberty, our main source of supply. We now quote at 7 1-2a8 cents gross, as to quality.

VEAL CALVES.

The market continues slow, with more offering than there is a demand for, but prices have undergone no quotable change; 5a5 1-2 for medium to good, and 6c for extra.

FRESH COWS.

The market continues slow, but with a very limited number on sale to-day, there was no decline in prices, which range from $25 to $65, according to quality.

L. A. WELSH, Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 6 1-2 feet and falling rapidly. Cloudy and warm, with a shower of rain during the afternoon and indications favorable for more.

THE A. J. Baker, Pittsburgh to St. Louis, was at Cairo yesterday.

THE Ashland, Capt. Kyle, is the next regular packet out for Cincinnati.

THE Fearless barges are announced for St. Louis and intermediate points.

THE John L. Rhoads is en route from St. Louis, and should arrive here during the latter part of the week.

THE bars are beginning to show in the river at Yankton, and the town is quite well supplied with this same article.

CAPT. I. R. WHITTAKER and George Lysle left for Cincinnati on Sunday morning. Capt. Whittaker is expected to-morrow.

THE Salt Valley from Ironton arrived and departed. She leaves here every Monday at 4 P. M., and is a permanent fixture in the trade.

THE Wild Duck barges are filling up steadily for St. Louis, and, as will be seen by card, she is announced to take her departure to-morrow.

THE Ashland arrived from Cincinnati, and, as will be seen by card, she is announced to take her departure again to-day. The Ashland is an 1 boat, and is well suited for the packet trade, in which she is now engaged.

ABOUT noon Sunday the steamer Alice Brown was passing down with a tow of coal, when her chimneys struck the suspension bridge at Wheeling and were slightly damaged. The chimneys had been lowered to pass under the bridge, but as the river is rather high at present, they were not low enough.

MONDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says:—The Fannie Tatum, Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed down Saturday with 600 tons, all for St. Louis. She reshipped twenty-five tons on the Indiana here for New Orleans. Pilots, Dick Henderson and Thos. Zeno.... The Ella will be sold by the United States Marshal at Jacksonport, Ark., the 25th of next month.

LATE advices from Sioux City report that the steamer Nellie Peck will follow the Durfee from Yankton up the river, and the Western will follow. The Durfee was to have left yesterday evening with the recruits which passed through our city yesterday. She will be commanded by Capt. Mason, and George Van Tassel will be clerk. It is possible she will go to Bismarck.

THE steamer Key West returned to Bismarck, Tuesday, having made the Champion trip of the season, running from Bismerck to Carroll in 7 days, 4 hours and 30 minutes. She now carries the following card pinned between the antlers of her pilot-box: "To the steamer Key West—The neatest and fastest steamer on the Missouri River, John Todd, master; Nick Buesen, clerk. Time—Bismarck to Carroll, 7 days, 4 hours and 30 minutes."

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says: The Fair Play arrived from Pittsburgh with a tow of coal.... The delegation of coal men began coming in last evening, from Pittsburgh. Among those who visited us last evening were Captains Ike Whitaker, Blackmore and Lisle.... The John L. Rhoads will arrive here this morning from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, and proceed up the river.... The Exchange and Hudson are announced for Pittsburgh, to leave to-morrow evening.

THE additional accidents reported to the coal fleet are as follows: The Smoky City, which left here on Sunday at 4 P. M., upended and scattered her tow in Merriman the same evening. She grounded one of her boats at the foot of Deadman, on the shore, and another below Shousetown. She gathered the balance of her tow up, and landed it safely at Economy, where she will remain until there is more water. She did not sink any of her boats, as reported by the evening papers. The Nellie Speer sunk one boat in the middle of the river, near Shousetown. The J. S. Mercer stuck one of her barges at the foot of Logstown.

THE owners of the steamer Forest City have contracted with J. A. Pringle & Co., of Brownsville, Penn., for a new hull for their boat, to be completed by the middle of September. She will be made some larger, and will have a fine model, which is expected to make her much faster than the old boat. The engines of the old Forest City (which are No. 1), with new boilers of larger dimensions, will be placed in the new boat. The hull will be brought to Steubenville to be completed as soon as launched, and the boat will be ready to take her place in the trade about the last of October. Capt. A. O'Neal, of the steamer Forest City, has been running a boat between Wheeling and Steubenville for nearly twenty-five years, and we are glad that his trade at present is such that a larger craft is considered necessary.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

YESTERDAY'S Wheeling Intelligencer says:—

The following towboats passed down on Saturday: Little Giant, with six barges containing 71,000 bushels of coal; Michigan, My Choice, Alex. Swift and Joseph Stone, also with heavy coal tows.... The following tows of coal passed down yesterday: John Dippold, with eight barges of coal (90,000 bushels) for Louisville; John Gilmore, Boaz, Alice Brown, Geo. Lisle, B. D. Wood, Grand Lake, Benwood, Maryland, J. F. Dravo, Fred. Wilson No. 2, Coal City, Eagle, Panther, Sam Miller, Reindeer, Hawk, Mary Ann, John Penney, John Hanna, James Gilmore and Resolute, all with heavy tows.... The Hope arrived from Sunfish and laid up at the lower end of the wharf to have her mud-drum repaired. The Barnard will proceed to Pittsburgh with the Hope's tow.... The Salt Valley passed up Saturday evening, en route from Ironton to Pittsburgh.

THE Bismarck Tribune, 14th, says:—The extent of the Montana business over the Northern Pacific Railroad, and the manner in which it is being handled, is a matter in which hundreds of our readers are deeply interested.

That the Northern Pacific affords a natural outlet for Montana products and inlet for supplies, even with the terminus of the road at Bismarck, has been fully demonstrated by this season's work. That it was not demonstrated last season is due to the unfortunate manner in which the business was handled after it left the hands of the Northern Pacific. The management of last season was disastrous to shippers, and of untold damage to the Northern Pacific and Diamond R. Lines, but their managers saw that while the boats employed were failing to do the work others were making regular trips, and to these they looked for relief.

Accordingly, an arrangement was entered into for this season with the Coulson boats, and the Josephine and Key West were assigned to the Carroll work. The latter leaves to-day on her fourth trip; the former on her third, and has, in addition to her Carroll work, made a trip to the mouth of the Big Horn river and a trip to Fort Benton—the latter in 17 days from Bismarck to Benton and return; and the Key West made her last trip from Bismarck to Carroll and return in twelve and a half days, landing freight at Carroll in ten days from St. Paul. And while these boats are making trips of this character, those engaged in the work last season are doing no better than then, showing that the fault did not lie wholly in low water and accidents.

Change of Carriers.

The Oakland and Shady Side route of the DAILY GAZETTE, formerly carried by Samuel Hood, has been transferred to Mr. Alex. Knox, who will hereafter serve the papers to subscribers in this district. It is suggested that if those having long lanes will place a small box at the street gate it will enable him to deliver their papers at a much earlier hour.

Sudden Death.

The Coroner held an inquest on the body of John Koehren, of Sharpsburg, who died of heart disease on Sunday night. It appears Mr. K. was taking a walk at the time named, and feeling a little fatigued, dropped into a neighbor's house and sat down. While engaged in conversation with the gentleman of the house, he dropped dead. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts. Deceased was a German, had been in this country about five years, and leaves a wife and two children.

Held for Court.

S. B. Earnest, the party who was arrested at the Union Depot last week for attempting to pass two counterfeit five dollar bills, on the Traders Bank of Chicago, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Harper yesterday, which resulted in his being held in the sum of $1,000 bail for his appearance at the next term of the United States Court. Among the witnesses examined were John E. Harrison, lightning rod agent, James Cotton, and A. W. Browning, the ticket agent at the Union Depot. The father of the accused went on the bail bond.

A Military Base Ball Club.

The Latta Guards, Co. B 19th Infantry, have organized a base ball club. The trial game to select a nine was played last Saturday on Herron's Hill, Thirteenth ward, Capt. S. A. Barr being Captain of the first nine, and Joseph Dickey Captain of the picked nine. Capt. Dickey's men won by a score of 36 to 13. Some very good playing was done on both sides, which had the effect of Capt. Barr altering his nine. After the game the company fell in line and had a drill. The Latta's nine would be glad to hear from any military club in the Sixth Division.

An Interesting Item to Oil Shippers.

The attention of shippers of oil is called to the very important announcement made elsewhere that the Columbia Conduit Company is now issuing certificates for oil. The company has its line in perfect working order now, and will commence to deliver oil to the refiners hereabouts to-day. The notice, as it appears elsewhere, sets forth the conditions upon which the certificates are issued. They can be had at the company's principal office, No. 77 Fourth avenue, or at the office in Millerstown, Butler county. The company will be in active operation have the benefit of the inducements it can offer.

Allegheny City Property Committee.

At a meeting of the Allegheny City Property Committee last night the Chairman and City Solicitor were directed to prepare the article leasing Smoky Island to the managers of the Industrial Exposition for a term of fifteen years. The lease will be submitted to Councils for notification. The ground asked for is between School street and Grant avenue and the quantity that will be needed will be defined in a communication to the Solicitor.

Controller Brown was directed to advertise for proposals for furnishing the city with its winter supply of coal. A number of bills were approved and the committee adjourned.

Fire and Burglary.

A fire took place at Verona borough yesterday morning, which resulted in the total loss of Berg's Hotel. The flames were not discovered until about one o'clock, and the citizens turned out in large numbers and made every effort possible to save the property. Most of the furniture was taken out, but in a damaged condition. The building was valued at $3,500, and was insured for $2,500. The furniture was insured for $2,500, and was damaged to the extent of $1,000.

While the fire was raging the residence of Mr. Archy Stewart, which stood near by, was robbed of valuables to the amount of between $300 and $400. It is thought by the residents of Verona that the fire was of incendiary origin, and that it was started for the purpose of attracting a crowd to that part of the town, to give the robbers an opportunity to go through some of the houses.

The Hookstown Academy.

A correspondent sends us an account of the closing exercises at the Hookstown Academy, on Friday evening, July 2, but as the letter comes too late, we are compelled to abridge it. The correspondent states that the exhibition was a very great success financially as well as otherwise. There was an overflowing house, and the net receipts were $96. The programme was of a varied character and quite entertaining. Among those of whom honorable mention is made, were W. B. Lawrence, (Salutatorian,) Miss Belle Bryar, Miss Ada Lawrence, Master Morton Scott, Master Milton Lawrence, Master Davie Nelson, Joseph Little, H. H. Swaney, (Valedictorian,) and Z. D. Boyd, (Vocalist.) There were thirty-five performers. The exercises were held in the Presbyterian Church, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. The instrumental music was furnished by the Adonis string band.

Hymeneal.

Yesterday afternoon a pleasant hymeneal ceremony occurred at the residence of the bride on Sixth avenue—the principals being Mr. Oscar Bradshaw and Mrs. Rachael McKean. The gentleman is one of the trusted conductors on the Connellsville Road, and the lady is well-known and esteemed in social circles. She was an adept in the mysteries of the "art preservative," and at one time was a member of our compositors' force, where she won the sincere respect of employers, and associates in the craft for, her skill as a "typo" and her uniform lady-like demeanor. The wedding was celebrated in the presence of a small company, consisting alone of relatives, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John G. Brown, after which gifts and congratulations were in order, and were both forthcoming in abundance. We join with other friends in wishing the worthy pair a long life of unadulterated happiness and prosperity.

RESULTED FATALLY.

A Man Has Both His Legs Cut Off at Altoona.

Yesterday morning Andrew McDermott, a switchman in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad, met with an accident at Altoona, which resulted fatally in the afternoon. At the time of the accident, McDermott was working about one of the switches, when by carelessness he was struck by an engine and thrown upon the track with both his legs across one of the rails, over which the wheels of the locomotive passed, severing them from his body. Medical aid was summoned, and for a time it was thought he would recover, but last evening his sufferings were ended by death.

BOY DROWNED.

A Fatal Mis-step on a Coal Barge.

Yesterday evening a party of small boys went to the Monongahela river at the foot of Liberty street, to go in swimming. They undressed themselves and got on a coal boat, preparatory to diving into the stream. Among the number was a twelve year old son of William Printy, Esq., who resides on Liberty street, near Third avenue, who, while walking on the barge, made a misstep and fell into the river and was drowned. His companions gave the alarm and search for the body was instituted, which was recovered at half-past seven o'clock. The Coroner held an inquest on the remains, when a verdict of "accidental drowning" was rendered.

DROPPED DEAD.

An Exciting Time at a Picnic.

Yesterday the Sunday School connected with the German Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner of Smithfield street and Sixth avenue, went pic-nicing to Friendship grove, in the Sixteenth ward. On the grounds was erected a "shanty" from which was dealt out eatables to those who were without provisions. In this temporary eating house was Mr. George Junker, who resides at No. 567 Fifth avenue, and who assisted in disposing of the edibles. He had been on the grounds most of the day, and about half-past five o'clock concluded that he would take a cup of coffee. No sooner had he finished drinking it than did he fall to the ground a corpse. Two or three physicians being in attendance at the picnic, they were called, who pronounced him dead and for a few minutes great excitement prevailed among the crowd. The body of Mr. Junker was placed in a conveyance and taken to his late residence, after which Coroner McCallin was notified, who repaired to the spot and held an inquest on the remains. After hearing the witnesses, the jury rendered a verdict of "death from heart disease." Deceased was a German by birth, forty-seven years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.

The family are much distressed over the sad occurrence, and from the number who called on them last evening to offer words of comfort, they no doubt have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

THE FINANCIAL PROBLEM.

Interesting Review—The Rights of Labor and Property—Evils of a High Rate of Interest, &c.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

NEW MONETARY SYSTEM. By Edward Kellogg.

The fuller title of this book further informs us that it is "the only means of securing the respective rights of labor and property, and of protecting the public from financial revulsions."

A work that even pretends to afford a remedy for the greatest evils of our industrial and monetary conditions deserves our careful, yet candid examination. But further still,

"It was composed chiefly about 1846, in the light of the calamities of the revulsion of 1837, and by a merchant of care and ability, who practically felt these calamities."

The book before us is the fifth edition, edited by Mary Kellogg Putnam, the daughter of the author, and who, during the years of its preparation, not only aided her father as an amanuensis, but deeply sympathized in his views.

Whatever of merit the book possesses, no more opportune period could have been selected for the publication of this new edition than the present.

To this edition Miss Putnam has added a biographical sketch of the author, so interesting that we hasten from it to the work of the father, certain that he will interest us.

The problem involved in the financial revulsion of 1837, he deeply considered. "He thought upon it by night and by day, and at last after looking for it three years, one night in the Spring of 1843, as he lay in his bed revolving once more his problem, it dawned upon him like an inspiration, 'Redeem it with a bond bearing interest.' He turned it to and fro for a moment, and exclaimed in the very words of the old philosopher, 'I have found it.'"

In the great panic of 1837 there were two sources of danger—distrust by the bill holders of the bank issues, and alarm by the depositors. In that of 1873 the bill holder was amply secured in the credit of the general government, and hence was not a part of the panic.

The first part of the remedy of Mr. Kellogg consisted in the issue of what he called a "Safety Fund Note," reading as follows:

"The United States promise to pay to A. B. or bearer, at their Safety Fund, in the city of ——, one hundred dollars in a treasury note, bearing interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum, payable half yearly in gold or silver coin, and until such payment is made, this note shall be a legal tender for debts, the same as gold and silver coins are now a tender."

The treasury note reads very much the same; it was payable in Safety Fund notes as above, and was to draw two per cent. interest in gold or silver, but was not declared a legal tender.

It will be seen that the purpose was to make the former a circulating medium for a high denomination of bills. In this, it is assumed as essential, that, at least, the principal part of the circulation should rest on the credit of the general government, and not on the banks. This reform, in a modified way, was carried into practical operation by Mr. Chase, and the effects of it were seen in the fact stated, that in the recent panic the billholder was freed from any alarm.

But Mr. Kellogg, as a deep-thinking business man, also saw the necessity of placing the depositor in like security, and hence his plan embraced him also, while that of Secretary Chase did not. His deposits (temporary at least) were to be in the Safety Fund establishments created by the General Government. The panic of 1873 was precipitated by the general distrust among the depositors occasioned by the failure of Jay Cooke & Co.

It is very evident that the recently suggested plan of issuing bonds drawing as low an interest as 3.65 per cent., had its origin in this plan of Mr. Kellogg.

That this plan would create a sufficient security to the depositor is very certain, but then, it is equally obvious that the depositors under it would be very limited, on account of the low rate of interest. None but temporary deposits would be so invested. And hence the greater part of them, both in number and amount, would be found, as now, in our banks, where they could realize six per cent. interest. The financial condition of the country would be as insecure as now, from the same cause—namely, excessive bank loans based on these deposits.

Mr. Kellogg saw this clearly, and hence he sought a remedy, by legislation, that would prevent the collection of any interest greater than the two per cent. paid by the Government. In such a measure, he not only anticipated security to depositors, but a vast general good, growing out of his low rate of legal interest.

Nearly all of his book is written to prove this; and to his teachings herein the reader's attention is now invited.

2. The evils of a high rate of interest.

Money is the standard of exchange. As such, it is the representative of all property, because every species of property may be sold and bought. Hence it is spoken of as being capital, because capital is a general term to designate the property or money a person owns to invest in any business.

If, then, the annual income from the use of property would be justly estimated at ten per cent., why should the representative (money) of this property be of less value? Yet, after denning money to be this standard of exchange, Mr. Kellogg contends that the rate of interest should be merely nominal, and so fixed by law. And to show that even six per cent. is too high, he asserts that it enables a few to trample in dust the rights of the laborer on whom we depend for every morsel of food we eat, &c. Now, to prove this, he presents many cases, wherein he calculates the increase of money at compound interest; and because the sum accumulated is large in the course of many years, he asserts this gain is grossly unjust and destructive of the rights of the borrower.

In all these many illustrations he assumes the very point in controversy. He asserts what he should prove.

He says: "It is proposed to show that there is a wide difference between renting property and lending money, and that the rent and market value of property decrease in proportion to the rise of interest, &c."

If money is the representative market value of property, how can it be of greater value than the property? That there is a difference between the value of money and property, oftentimes, is certain, as it is now, but this is owing to that which gives a market value to everything, namely, the law of supply and demand. If a people by profligacy of expenditure become involved in debts they cannot pay, then the obligations which represent this indebtedness, and the money by which only they can be purchased, assume from this law of supply and demand a market value much greater than all other property. This is the cause of the evil referred to by our author; the money is small in amount compared to the debts it must speedily discharge. If he denounced the profligacy that caused this indebtedness, or if he advocated a law to prevent the collection of debts with a view to render this profligacy impossible, there would appear some reason for such a course. Money as the medium of exchange becomes more or less valuable according to its demand, and when vast debts must be discharged, they give a value to money it would not otherwise have. To demand, therefore, as Mr. Kellogg does, a forced low rate of interest in such cases, would be in violation of this law of demand, and if violated by law in one case, it should be in all others. He might insist that at one time rents are too high, therefore they must be fixed by law; or that flour at ten dollars must be sold at five dollars; and this because these rents and this price for flour were robbing labor of its just reward; that we were trampling its rights under foot.

The great error of our author is in supposing there is a one cure for our financial evils. In this he follows the ancient Alchemists in their researches for that Elixir of Life that was to cure all diseases, even the wrinkles of old age; or our more modern patent medicines, each one of which cures all complaints that flesh is heir to.

If a law could be passed limiting the rate of interest to two per cent. it would destroy the loaning of money. It would have to be supplemented by another law forcing those who had it to loan it.

The evil he saw around him from 1837 to 1843 was an indebtedness induced by almost every cause that could produce it. Unlimited issues of bank paper; over-trading; reckless speculations; weak judgments in business extensions; palatial residences; an extravagance in dress that was unlimited; cessation of industry, and economy in nothing.

An arbitrary low rate of interest, if it did not annihilate loans, would increase all these vices. I readily admit that there is a necessity, at times, to limit the rate of interest to a sum that the general experience of a State shows is based on ordinary profits arising from the use of money. This is intended as a protection against the exactions of money lenders, especially banks, which, by their reckless loans, have stimulated an indebtedness they should rather have suppressed. To allow them to take advantage of their own wrong would be against equity and conscience.

Seeing, then, that our author has given no agency by which bank deposits could be materially lessened, nor a security against panic amongst the depositors, there is, as yet, no adequate remedy suggested for that special evil. The proposed one of government bonds bearing but 3.65 per cent. would be little more efficient to limit deposits than the Safety Fund Note of Mr. Kellogg. The only remedy is to require the bank receiving deposits to secure them by a pledge of government bonds to an amount of one-half the deposits, and by making stockholders individually liable for the other half.

3. Capital and Labor.

One leading object of this book is to secure the respective rights of labor and capital. I have already considered how it proposes to do this by legislation that seeks to fix the interest on money at 2 per cent. But Mr. Kellogg is not content with the advocacy of a proposition so monstrous as this, but takes every occasion to asperse capital as an enemy of labor. As the relations between the two constitute, especially at this time, a subject of controversial strife, a calm consideration of it is demanded.

What is capital? It is not money, urges Mr. Kellogg, because it has a representative value only. But money from this very character is capital, not only because it has a legal value, but because as gold and silver it has also a natural value, equal to its legal or artificial value. How is capital created? Undoubtedly by labor, as Mr. Kellogg truly says. It then represents "past" labor, and is as much labor, as present labor. Capital being such, there is no more antagonism between it and present labor, than between portions of present labor, especially when it is in excess. We see, every day, the antagonism between labor in unions and labor out of them, the one by combination seeking to control the other.

The true relation of past and present labor is one of mutual benefit. Let me refer to instances of this fact, not from imaginary suppositions, as so often given by Mr. Kellogg, but from actual life as it is about us.

A friend of mine hauls my coal. Without his two horses and wagon, his daily labor would be worth $1.50; with these aids, above their expense, he makes $3.00. His past labor—his capital—is embodied in his horses and wagon.

Around me are numerous coal mines. The boats that carry the coal to market were built by capital, giving employment to labor, in their construction, and to labor in cutting, hauling, sawing, &c., the lumber out of which they are made. Without them thousands of laborers could not carry the coal a half mile until the cost of it would prevent its consumption. But besides these, capital is required to purchase coal lands, and build tipples and railways. All this expenditure is an absolute necessity before the labor of the miner is of any value to him. His capital is muscle, and the knowledge of miners is of no value until this expenditure of past labor—capital—is first made. Go to rolling mills, and all other industries, and the same truths are self-evident.

On the other hand, this capital in all forms of its expenditure, is valueless, without the aid of present labor.

But capital commands what all the present labor cannot accomplish, those titanic laborers of steam machinery, without which so many products would not be consumed by reason of their great cost. Take all iron manufactures as an illustration. What would a bar of iron or a keg of nails cost, if they had to be made by present labor by the hands and muscles of men? How many houses could be built? What of other industries would there be, if capital did not exist, and these vast forces of steam could not be called in aid of present labor? Hence the great lesson of all history, that in proportion as the aid of machinery assists present labor, this labor becomes more valuable. And hence, too, the fact that in purely agricultural countries, where production is only partially aided by machinery, labor experiences its lowest value, and its most degraded conditions.

Why, then, in the presence of these facts illustrating the mutual benefits resulting from a union of capital and labor, does so much hostility exist between them?

That capitalists will speculate is certain; so will labor. Both will try to get the highest prices for their respective products. But capital, in its speculations, operates on the community generally, and not on its ally, labor. Take, for instance, as an illustration, that most unwise as well as unjust speculation of our iron men, when, because of a speculation in Great Britain by certain coal and iron operators, the price of iron there was greatly enhanced, they sought to advance their iron here to an equal extent, together with the protective duty accorded to their interest. Instead of keeping prices down, that a favorable contrast should be made, and claiming it as a result of encouraging home production, their cupidity was stronger than whatever of common sense was embodied in their conventions. Iron and its manufactures were advanced from 50 to 100 per cent.

At any time such an advance would have been folly; at that particular time, when the country was threatened with a financial revulsion, it was stupidity and madness. The industries most closely dependent on raw iron, as the nail manufactories, were the first to stop; gradually all suffered, and pig iron in about eighteen months was quoted as nominal for want of demand. In the meantime, the furnaces and rolling mills were put to their full capacity of production, by enlarging that capacity, and new works were built, which, when ready for operation, found a prostrated market. They killed the goose that was laying the golden eggs for them.

Such speculations were not against the labor they employed, but against the community at large; against iron workers who were ruined by this advance in the raw material they had to use. Government cannot protect us from the consequences of our own folly.

Let us now go to the labor side of our industries and see whether a like conclusion must not be reached.

Here I am in the midst of coal mines. For at least eight years the miners have been getting four cents per bushel, and their labor is not impeded by a thermometer 20 degrees below zero, or 96 degrees above it. One hundred bushels per day is what a good miner can dig. If he labors but 250 days in the year, his earnings are $1,000. His expenses ought not to be, on an average, over one-half this amount. But few of them accumulate anything. They live up to their income, and with many the practice is, that whatever is left beyond expenditures that know no future rainy day, is got rid of at the whisky shop over the river in Allegheny county.

Such improvidence creates habits that grow violently antagonistical to capital, when the low prices of coal force lower rates for digging. Union leaders do not seek to correct these wasteful habits, but to disturb the relations of capital and labor.

Bad management and waste are prevailing errors of the laboring classes generally, but of such things Mr. Kellogg takes no account in the multitude of his calculations. In what way a two per cent. interest can work a reformation of these errors, he has not disclosed.

But however widely I dissent from many things in this book, I commend it to those who control capital, especially that portion of it invested in banking. Our banks should be more than mere shaving shops; they ought to be controlled by men of enlarged capacities; who would conduct their business with a view of its relations to trade and commerce and all industrial pursuits, so as to restrain the too ardent, and to check, in proper time, the natural tendencies to excessive and improper expenditures.

CRIME IN THE CITY.

Minor Offenses and Petty Criminalities of Yesterday.

JOHN D. HOERR appeared before Alderman Wm. King, yesterday, and charged James Meldrum with fraud. The defendant was jailed to await trial.

ANDREW HOLLOWGREEN was committed to jail yesterday, by Alderman James Berry, to await trial on a charge of felonious assault and battery, preferred by Jacob Barstroon.

WM. SNYDER, who is charged with the larceny of a watch from W. E. Walsh, had a hearing yesterday evening before Mayor Phillips, of Allegheny, and in default of $500 bail was committed for trial.

ALDERMAN BARTLEY committed James Readman and Obadiah Welk to jail, yesterday morning, in default of five hundred dollars bail, to await trial by Court—the first on a charge of receiving stolen goods and the last named for larceny.

MICHAEL KEARNY made an information yesterday before Alderman McKenna, charging Philip Paul with false pretense. The allegation is that Paul borrowed money from complainant, promising to furnish security, which he has thus far neglected or refused to do.

EDWARD REESE, a youth of fifteen summers, who was arrested yesterday morning at the Fort Wayne depot, in Allegheny, on suspicion of having stolen a quantity of clothing from Wm. A. Bragden, a gardener of Seven Mile Island, being unable to furnish $300 bail last evening was sent up for trial.

TWO BOYS who were arrested near Economy a few weeks ago, on a charge of having stolen a skiff belonging to Mr. Charles McKnight, at Glendale, were discharged by Alderman McMasters yesterday, the defendants having laid in jail for four weeks, and the prosecutor declining to further prosecute them.

A. F. HALLADAY lodged an information vs. Thomas A. Johns yesterday, before Alderman McKenna, for alleged misdemeanor. It is represented that Johns had transferred to the plaintiff a certain promissory note, which he had received for a patent right, which failed to contain in it the words "for a patent," which is held to be a misdemeanor under the act of 1872. The defendant will have a hearing.

A WEALTHY old bachelor farmer, of Washington county, eighty years of age, named Porter, has been held to bail in $1,000 by 'Squire Stillwagon, of Claysville, to answer a charge of making an assault on his servant girl. The girl came from Ohio a few weeks ago, and was engaged as a housekeeper by Porter. She says Porter visited her room one evening and made an attempt upon her chastity. He alleges, however, that the girl was in the fault. The case will go to Court.

A CHARGE of embezzlement has been lodged against W. S. Gillan, the patent agent, by Joseph Crookson before Alderman Burke. The plaintiff alleges that he has paid Gillan $175 to obtain a patent on an improved railroad frog, and that on being informed that the patent had been granted, he instituted an investigation which proved the statement to be without foundation. He therefore charges the defendant with appropriating the funds to his own use. A hearing in the case will be had to-day.

JOHN PLATTENBURG last evening made an information before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, charging John Bennett with larceny as bailee. It seems that some time ago the plaintiff borrowed twenty dollars from the defendant and gave him his tool chest as security. He alleges that Bennett not only took the chest but the tools in it, and says that he can neither do any work nor pay the money back until he gets his tools. A warrant was issued and a hearing in the case will take place at nine o'clock this morning.

A BIG AND BOLD ROBBERY.

The Office of the Middlesex Rolling Mill Co. Despoiled of Its Entire Set of Books.

Some time during Sunday night the office of the Middlesex Rolling Mill Co., at Middlesex, on the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad, was entered by unknown parties and robbed of $75 or $100 in cash and the company's entire set of books, comprising day books, ledgers, stock book and cash book. The loss of money is comparatively small, but the theft of the books is a matter of serious proportions to the company, as they contained accounts to the value of $50,000, besides all the records of the financial transactions of the firm, accounts of the shareholders, &c. However, it is unnecessary to dwell upon this phase of the robbery, as all business men will at once recognize the magnitude of it. There is no clue whatever to the perpetrators of the affair, but an earnest and determined effort is being made to arrest them.

THAT ALLEGED FRAUDULENT SALE.

Johnston, the Rochester Merchant, Committed to Jail—Hearing this Afternoon in the Cases Against the Deputy Sheriffs—Interview with Sheriff Hare—What He Thinks of It.

There was a hearing yesterday afternoon before Alderman C. D. Smith, in the Diamond, Allegheny, in the case of W. F. Johnston, of Rochester, who is charged with larceny by Mr. T. S. Baird. The latter was recently in the boot and shoe business on Federal street, but was sold out last week by a number of Deputy Sheriffs, against whom suits are also pending for complicity in certain alleged unlawful transactions. The hearing was very largely attended and excited much interest. During the taking of evidence Deputy Sheriff Thomas Cluley testified that it was customary among them to take such goods as they wanted and pay for them at the same rate as the bidders did. This is a privilege which the general public certainly never knew to attach to the position of Deputy Sheriff. At the conclusion of the hearing the magistrate announced that he would require Johnston to give $500 bail for trial at Court, but being unable to do so he was committed to jail.

Between two and three o'clock this afternoon Alderman Edgar will hear the evidence in the suits which have been instituted before him. Deputy Sheriffs Thomas Cluley, Henry Cluley and David Hahn are charged with larceny and conspiracy, and Wm. V. Deihl with conspiracy alone.

In conversation yesterday afternoon with Mr. T. S. Baird's brother, who was most active at the sale in bidding in his brother's stock of goods, he informed our reporter that an account of stock taken before the sale showed $4,300 worth of goods on hand. The proceeds of the sale amounted to but $3,000, and Mr. Baird claims that the discrepancy is much greater than there is any necessity for. He also stated that Johnson's purchases footed up $144.10, all of which could have been put in one case, but that he took away with him quite a number of packages containing goods. Messrs. Bruce & Negley and W. D. Moore appear in behalf of complainant in this cause. The Deputy Sheriffs are confident of their ability to come out of this affair with clean skirts, and it is to be sincerely hoped that they may.

This occurrence having created quite a breeze in the two cities, a reporter of this paper called on Sheriff Hare yesterday to learn what he had to say on the subject. He stated that he had just returned from Indian Creek, and had not heard a word of the charges made against his men until he came into the office yesterday forenoon. He had not had time to read any of the morning papers, so did not really know what they had said about the matter. Our representative then inquired "well Sheriff, what is your opinion in regard to the charges?"

Sheriff—"I'll bet a hundred dollars to one that there is no truth in them."

Rep.—"Then you have a good opinion of your deputies?"

Sheriff—I have, and I do not think any of the men about me would do anything but the square thing.

Rep.—What do you think gave rise to the complaint?

Sheriff—It is all spite work. Baird's brother wanted the goods but somebody else out-bid him and made him angry and he thought he would take his spite out on the boys.

Rep.—Who are the accused?

Sheriff—I don't know.

Rep.—If they are not able to show clean hands, Sheriff, what will you do about it?

Sheriff—If they have done anything that is not perfectly square they will be sorry for it. While I have the utmost confidence in my employes if I find any of them showing dirty hands I will prosecute them to the full extent of the law. Even more; if it lands them in the Penitentiary I will not spare them, but will do all in my power to secure their conviction if I find they have been guilty of such an act as charged.

During the conversation Mr. Hare spoke in a tone which indicated that he meant all he said, and he assured our representative that if there was any grounds for action, he would not only institute an investigation but would see that justice was meted out to the guilty party or parties.

TEMPERANCE.

Regular Weekly Meeting of the Alliance.

The Allegheny County Temperance Alliance met at their rooms, on Penn avenue, yesterday, with Mr. T. H. Rabe in the chair. Messrs. Jennings and Turner acted as the Secretaries.

Reports of a number of meetings held during the past week, were offered and received.

It was announced that a Conference of the Alliance and Union would be held at Altoona to-day, for the purpose of taking initiatory steps toward the consolidation of the two organizations.

The matter of the coming Convention, which meets August the 9th, was next discussed at some length. Appointments were made of persons to devote themselves to awaking interest in the coming Convention. On next Friday evening the voters of the Second and Third wards are to meet to elect delegates.

The attention of the Alliance was called to confinement in jail of Mr. McClintock for non-payment of costs in a liquor suit; also to the action of the recent Grand Jury, but no action was taken.

Mr. Kirk offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That in view of the encouraging prospects from all parts of the county for a large attendance at the Nomination Convention to be held on August 9th, the Committee on Delegates, appointed last Monday, be instructed to have Lafayette Hall properly decorated for the occasion, and make the necessary arrangements to secure a proper dispatch of the business of the Convention.

Adjourned.

LOVERIDGE VS. BIDWELL ET AL.

An Affidavit of Defense Filed by the Defendants.

It will be remembered that an action was begun in the Common Pleas Court No. 1 over two weeks ago by Philip Loveridge through his Attorney, John Barton, Esq., to recover $20,000 damages from D. W. C. Bidwell, of the Oakland Passenger Railway Company, and Sarah Long. The suit was brought by the plaintiff on account of alleged false arrest and imprisonment, and grew out of the "bogus punch" case, which has already been fully reported. The defendants filed separate affidavits of defense to the plaintiff's petition yesterday, and in his reply, Mr. Bidwell, who made the information, sets forth that he was informed by Mr. Donaldson, an employe of the company, that Sarah Long, a detective, had seen the conductor use a bogus punch, upon which information he made the charge before Alderman Black and caused his arrest. The case was postponed, he admits, several times, in consequence of the absence of witnesses, but that he could not prevent.

Sarah Long says she had nothing to do with the arrest of Loveridge, and knew nothing about it until she was subpœnaed as a witness to testify against him. She states that she was employed as a detective on the Oakland road, by Mr. Donaldson, and alleges that she did see Mr. Loveridge use a bogus punch, specifying the time. She communicated the fact to Mr. Donaldson, by whom she had been employed, and this was the extent of her connection with the case, except that she was called upon as a witness. She denies also, that she was instrumental, as alleged, in securing his committal to jail for trial at Court, but believes that the Alderman was fully justified by the evidence, in committing him.

The bill, it will be recollected, was ignored when it came up before the Grand Jury.

WORKHOUSE PRISONER SHOT.

Trouble About the Removal of a Lot of Barrels—An Arrest.

A prisoner at the Allegheny county Workhouse, on the West Penn Railroad, was shot on Sunday afternoon by John Weisenberger and seriously wounded. Certain statements that have recently been made are to the effect that Philip Weisenberger, who owns an oil refinery at Claremont, was financially embarrassed and about to break up. He had been purchasing oil barrels from the workhouse authorities on credit, and when they learned of his financial difficulty they sent a squad of prisoners under command of Deputy Warden John L. Kennedy, to take possession of the barrels. The detachment went to the refinery, forced the door open, and was about to roll the property out, when Mr. John Weisenberger, son of the proprietor, appeared upon the scene and ordered them to desist. No attention being paid to this, young Weisenberger produced a revolver and fired into the crowd, the ball striking one of the prisoners and inflicting an ugly wound. At this the crowd fell back and retired to the Work House, where the wounded man was placed under the care of the surgeon, and after being reinforced until the party numbered about thirty, they advanced again, and this time succeeded in getting possession of the barrels. Subsequently an information was lodged against young Weisenberger before a magistrate of Sharpsburg. He was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

A BAD BOARD WALK.

A Dispute Concerning Jurisdiction, and Good Prospects for Damages.

For a considerable time past the board walk on the Troy Hill road, on Luetty's hill, between Wickline's and Lowry's lanes, Allegheny, has been in a very dangerous condition and may yet prove the source of a suit for damages against the city. It is built on the side of the road now within the municipal limits, and is from six to eight feet above the ground. Should any one fall into either of the numerous holes with which it is filled, the result would be a broken limb, and possibly a loss of life. The authorities of Reserve township have repaired part of the road, but they refused to have anything to do with the board walk, on the ground that it is in the city and out of their jurisdiction. Inquiry at the City Engineer's office developed the fact that that part of the Troy Hill road on Luetty's hill is the dividing line between the city and Reserve township, and in such a case it is customary to mark upon the maps the center of the road as the exact dividing line between the two districts. This proves the correctness of the allegations of the Reserve township authorities that the walk is within the city limits, but it does not relieve them from their responsibility to assist in keeping it in repair, because it was built for the benefit of all the parties who travel that road, no matter whether they reside in the township or city. Should further neglect to repair the road result in a suit for damages, it claimed that the municipality and township would be jointly liable. While speaking of this matter we desire to state that Ravine street, between Branch street and Wickline's lane, over which the travel is very heavy, is also in exceedingly bad condition.

The County Treasurership.

Now that it has been decided to put in nomination a candidate for County Treasurer, candidates are making their announcements. Among the gentlemen named in connection with the office is Judge John E. Parke, one of Allegheny's most highly esteemed citizens. Judge Parke has been in active business in this community for a long period of years, and has won an irreproachable name for integrity and inflexible adherence to right. He has also been called by the votes of the people to fill several offices of responsibility and trust, and has discharged his duty in every instance in a manner that won for him the esteem and respect of all who were acquainted with his official career. The Judge is a gentleman of intelligence and could understandingly fill any office to which he was elected. He has business experience, probity of character, and intellectual capacities that qualify him for the position for which his friends are pushing him, and if elected he would make an acceptable officer.

The Rev. G. W. Cranage, a prominent Methodist clergyman, thus relates his experience:

PITTSBURGH, PA., September 8, 1873.

I had been suffering from Dysentery nearly all summer, and it seemed impossible to get any permanent relief, although I had been under the care of several eminent physicians. At the urgent solicitation of a friend, I was finally induced to try DR. HARRIS' SUMMER CORDIAL, but confess that I had but little faith in such a simple remedy, as I supposed it was intended more especially for children. To my surprise, the first dose gave immediate relief, and less than a bottle of the Cordial affected a permanent cure. It is impossible to express my full appreciation of so valuable a medicine.

MARRIED.

BAGLEY—MOOR—July 25, at the residence of the bride, 125 Second avenue, by Alderman Humbert, Miss LIBBIE E. MOOR to WALTER P. BAGLEY, both of Pittsburgh.

DIED:

Don't Make War on the Stomach.

If you are bilious, dyspeptic and constipated don't make war on the stomach by successfully swallowing blue pills, strong purgatives and powerful astringents. Such a procedure damages digestion and weakens the bowels, leaving stomach, liver and intestines, after the immediate effect in a condition of greater disorder than before. That complete relief which remedies of the above description signally fail to afford is obtained by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. And for the best of reasons. Biliousness is the result of inactivity of the liver, dyspepsia of weakness of the digestive organs, and constipation is produced by the above causes operating together. The Bitters, being a powerful stomachic, overcome indigestion by stimulating the secretion of gastric juice, relieve biliousness by promoting greater activity of the liver and thus enable the bowels to act with renewed regularity.
